Ferry Steamer Runs Aground

Ss. Princess Joan Is Refloated Following Mishap at Nanaimo

Ss. Princess Joan, C.P.R. steamer which went aground near the ballast wharf in the south channel near Nanaimo yesterday will be in drydock here this morning, according to Capt. O. J. Williams, manager of the B.C. Coast Service.

The big ship, loaded with automobiles and passengers for Vancouver, had only moved a few ship lengths from the Nanaimo wharf when she grounded. She floated off with the high tide.

Passengers were placed aboard the Princess Elaine to continue their voyage to the Mainland.

According to Capt. Williams the accident has been attributed to spar buoys marking the shoals being out of position.

All steamship services will be maintained, Captain Williams said, although there will be a temporary shortage of cabins and automobile space on the night runs.

Palestine Terrorists Wreck Train

Ends blasted out, these two of the five cars wrecked in an explosion under the troop train Egypt Express, recently, near Tel Aviv, are evidence of the troublous times in Palestine. A number of soldiers were killed. Here, British soldiers examine the wreckage, while at home and abroad the question of entry into Palestine and tactics of the Jewish terrorists are causing considerable discussion.

Big Powers May Face Showdown on Palestine

Embarrassing Questions Likely At Special U.N. Council Session

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP).—Britain and the other big powers may be forced to show their hands on the Palestine issue in the special session of the United Nations Assembly opening Monday.

Reports from small nations indicated that the Arab League might get some support in its efforts to pin down the British on the explosive issue, either through drawing out the British in debate or inducing a commitment that London would accept the recommendations of a proposed inquiry commission.

Britain and the United States were ready to resist any efforts to throw open the debate with the argument that the agenda called only for discussions of a commission. However, there appeared to be little doubt that some delegates would delve to the very bottom of the question and fire a series of embarrassing questions.

As delegates arrived from all parts of the world for the extraordinary session on the Holy Land, Hungary made a surprise move in filing formal application for United Nations membership.

The first Axis state to seek entry into the 55-nation peace agency, Hungary said in its note that the treaty had been signed and "therefore the limitations imposed upon my country's sovereignty by the armistice agreement are of temporary character and will lose their effect upon the coming into force of said treaty."

The United Nations announced that no action could be taken on the application until the peace treaty had been ratified by the signatory Governments. At that time the request will go to the Security Council for vote and thence to the Assembly for a final ballot.

A slate accepted by the Big Five in a caucus with Secretary-General Trygve Lie would give the seven vice-president posts to Russia, United States, Britain, France, China, India or the Philippines, and a Latin American country. The six committees would be headed by Egypt, Canada, Czecho-Slovakia, Poland, Mexico and Sweden.

Dr. Oswaldo Aranha, former Brazilian Foreign Minister, was expected to have little or no opposition for the presidency.

More Firms Join Wage Rise in U.S.

Thousands Benefit By New Increases

DETROIT, April 26 (AP).—Chrysler Corp. of the automobile industry followed the example of General Motors tonight by granting an 11½ cents hourly wage increase tied in with six paid holidays.

As the second of the automobile industry's "Big Three" signed this approximate 15-cent pattern with the C.I.O. United Auto Workers, only the Ford Motor Co. remained to come to an understanding with the union on 1947 pay scales.

The General Electric Company also fell into line with the new wage pattern set by major auto and steel companies, agreeing to a 15-cent-an-hour wage increase for its 125,000 employees in 14 states.

The Chrysler raise, in addition to going to 70,000 production workers and 3,000 union salaries employees, also was extended to 12,000 non-union workers, the corporation said. Thus it covered Chrysler's complete 85,000-man force.

Hungary Asks To Join U.N.

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., April 26 (AP).—Hungary today applied for membership in the United Nations.

She is the first Axis nation to seek entry into the peace agency, which now has 55 members.

The application will be referred to the Security Council, which must give approval before a final vote by the General Assembly, probably this Fall.

Parliament Has Heavy Agenda After Budget Is Brought Down

OTTAWA, April 27 (CP).—Members of the Commons, with 55 sitting days behind them, still find themselves faced with the bulk of the work outlined for the third session of Canada's Twentieth Parliament.

For instance, Monday and possibly a good part of Tuesday will be taken up with the passage of remaining wartime orders in council which are appended to the Government's main control bill — the bill which extends for one year the powers to impose price, rent and other controls.

Tuesday night, Finance Minister Abbott is scheduled to deliver his budget speech. When he concludes, J. M. Macdonnell (P.C., Muskoka-Ontario), chief financial critic for the Progressive Conservative Party, is scheduled to make a few brief remarks and then adjourn the debate.

The adjournment may extend into several weeks because the Government has announced that old age pensions, veterans' preference and labor legislation is to be introduced as soon as possible after passage of the main control bill.

The old age pensions legislation is expected to increase by between $5 and $10 a month the present $20 a month basic pension to the aged. It is also expected to ease the conditions under which a pension may be granted.

The veterans preference legislation, on the basis of indications from Government spokesmen, will give overseas veterans and airmen who flew off the Atlantic Coast priority in civil service positions.

The labor legislation will give statutory form to orders in council which the Federal Government hopes will provide the basis for a national labor code.

Once the budget and the emergency legislation is passed, the Commons likely will return to the regular session at procedure under which Government legislation has precedence only three days each week.

Other days are devoted to private members' legislation, and this session there are already 50 private members' resolutions advocating changes in a variety of fields.

Synod Reports Comics Stupid

MONTREAL, April 26 (CP).—The 88th Synod of the Church of England Diocese of Montreal considers comic strips generally "are a lazy man's literature."

A committee formed to study comic strips reported to the synod's closing meeting last night that they are "a symptom of the commercial profit-seeking menace that seeks gain by pandering to certain individual levels of thought."

"Because of the fact that children in some cases have more intelligence than those who produce the pictures, it is difficult to condemn comic strips outright," the report said. "Nevertheless, one is led to ask why they cannot be made more positive for good.

"In general, they are a lazy man's literature, largely stupid, although sometimes subtly comic and in too obvious contrast to good literature which requires concentration and effort."

Further Union Curbs Planned

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP).—Senate Republican leaders laid plans today to put more union curbs into the labor bill and hammer it through to Senate passage during the coming week.

The G.O.P. plans were laid in a meeting of the nine-man Senate Republican Policy Committee. This is headed by Senator Taft (R., Ohio), who supports four amendments and told a reporter today, "I rather think we've got the votes to pass them."

Taft disclosed that the Republican leadership now is undecided about pressing for an amendment that would authorize private employers to seek court injunctions to block certain kinds of strikes, including jurisdictional strikes. Taft, with Senators Ball (R., Minn.), Byrd (D., Va.), and others, also supports three other amendments which would:

Prohibit unions from coercing workers in their free choice of unions; prohibit national unions from trying to coerce local unions in the writing of labor-management contracts; and prohibit union-controlled welfare funds such as the present fund in the anthracite mining industry.

Soviet Blamed For Stalemate

VIENNA, April 26 (AP).—Gen. Mark W. Clark told a news conference today that from the end of the London deputy foreign ministers' meeting until the end of the Moscow Big Four Conference, Soviet Russia refused to make a single compromise on the Austrian peace treaty.

Clark, who took part in both conferences, said Russia suggested amendments that only widened the breach between herself and the three Western powers.

He declared that France, Britain and the United States constantly offered compromise proposals on nearly every point in dispute, but that the Russians refused to consider them and demanded the adoption of Soviet proposals.

"Pot of Gold" Is Court Case

SEATTLE, April 26 (AP).—A Seattle rooming house operator disclosed today she had found a $7,800 pot of gold after pursuing an "auction" rainbow for 20 years—but she faces a court battle to keep the money.

The currency was discovered in two cans that were part of a case of odds and ends purchased for $1.90 by Mrs. Lillian Irene Wilson, former employee of The Kansas City Star.

Mrs. Nelson said the money was stuffed in so tightly it had to be pried out with a fork. The cans and other goods were sold at the liquidation of the estate of George Lee Baber, 55.

Baber, who lived alone in a trailer, signed a will on his deathbed, leaving all his belongings and holdings to a crippled brother, Grover C. Baber, Richmond, Va.

Litigation was started by the attorney for the executor of the estate seeking to force Mrs. Nelson to return her "find." She was served with a court order to appear May 17 to show cause why she should not be compelled to turn back the money and restraining her from hiding or spending any part of it.

South Swelters In Hottest Day

SEATTLE, April 26 (AP).—The western slopes of the Pacific Northwest baked today under a hot sun that sent temperatures zooming to record April highs.

Coatless Seattle people sweltered as the maximum climbed to 87 above, two degrees higher than the previous top mark reached only three times before in the 55 years that weather records have been kept there.

Portland's 86 was one degree above that city's April record. Eugene and Medford matched the Rose City with 86.

Butter Cost May Go Up

Predict Increase When Bonus Off

(Special to The Daily Colonist)

OTTAWA, April 26.—An increase in butter prices of at least 10 cents is expected across Canada next Thursday, when the Federal subsidy on butterfats ends.

While the exact extent of the butter-price increase has not yet been determined by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, it is expected to be announced Wednesday night.

There are varying reports, ranging from a 10-cent to a 13-cent rise in the price per pound to consumers. Board officials said this matter will be decided early next week, and indicated that it will be a "10-cent rise anyway, if not more."

Meanwhile another problem which may involve a price rise has cropped up.

Highly authoritative sources disclosed tonight that considerable concern is felt here that a shortage of leather, caused by reduced cattle slaughterings, may result in higher prices for boots and shoes. So serious is the situation, it was stated, that the Dominion Government is now considering ways and means of preventing the shortage.

Democrats Win In Jap Voting

TOKIO, April 26 (AP).—Japan's Social Democrats surprised themselves today by winning 143 seats in the House of Representatives, giving them pluralities in both Houses of the new Diet.

The party, moderately leftist, is outnumbered by a conservative Coalition, but its leaders took the returns from Friday's election as a mandate for tighter economic controls to combat the country's problems.

They also saw an improved chance for their chairman, patient, soft-spoken, 59-year-old Tetsu Katayama, to demand the premiership.

Complete unofficial returns gave the Liberals 131 seats, Democrats 123, Co-operatives 31, Communists 4, minority parties 21, and Independents 13.

The Liberals and Democrats, both conservative and now in control of a Coalition Cabinet, thus still have a majority together, but their failure individually to outrun the Social Democrats was taken generally as an expression of voter dissatisfaction with past policies.

The Social Democrats have been the Government's main critics and have refused twice to join a coalition unless they could have the premiership.

The present premier, Shigeru Yoshida, and 11 of his Cabinet all easily won election to the new House and will be eligible for reappointment. Make up of the new administration will depend on organization of the new House when it meets in mid-May.

$3,046.95 Donated To Parcels Fund

MAYOR'S Fund Parcels for Britain yesterday realized a total of $3,046.95 as a result of its tag day in Victoria, it was announced last night.

Mrs. F. E. Dowdall was convener of the collection carried out by women of the I.O.D.E. Municipal Chapter, assisted by various other women's organizations in the city. Mrs. H. Wollison was in charge of collections.

"I am somewhat disappointed at the result of the tag day," Mayor Percy E. George said last night. "Along with the committee I had expected a sum closer to $4,000. Undoubtedly, the main reason for the less-than-expected total is that many Victoria citizens are sending their own food parcels overseas."

Trailer Blast Proves Costly

KALAMAZOO, Mich., April 26 (AP).—Six homes were damaged and two persons slightly injured tonight when a tank trailer with 3,000 gallons of gasoline blew up. Property damage was estimated at $100,000. The driver jumped from the truck just in time and got away with a sprained ankle.

U.S. Naval Ships Given To Chinese

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP).—President Truman today gave an unspecified number of naval vessels and floating drydocks to China and authorized the navy to teach the Chinese how to run them.

The President acted under a 1946 law permitting him to provide up to 271 vessels and craft to China. The act specifies that they must be unneeded by the United States Navy.

The act requires Congressional sanctions to turn over any battleships, aircraft carriers, cruisers, destroyers and submarines, and since Mr. Truman acted alone, presumably none of those types is involved.

The navy said that some American craft are already in use by the Chinese, having been part of lend-lease operations. In the case of these ships only a change of title will be needed.

Further transfers, the navy said, will be determined by the rate at which Chinese can be trained to handle the ships. The Presidential order authorized the sending of 100 officers and 200 enlisted men for training purposes.

China at one time had a fairly well-trained small fleet, under English guidance. However, she has never been an important naval power and once, in 1884, her entire fleet was practically wiped out by the French in seven minutes.

Protest of Youngsters On Candy Price Grows

In a growing wave of resentment, children of Victoria began in earnest yesterday to protest against 8-cent chocolate bars.

Several schools were reported to have instructed children in making placards. However, schools did not prompt all kiddies to fight the increase. One youngster busy climbing a telephone pole on Quadra Street stressed "No school teacher told me to make any placards."

"I made them myself and I'm putting them up myself," said the youngster.

Main centre of activity on the "strike front" was around Quadra and Cook Streets. Pupils of Cloverdale School went all out with posters and placards. Telephone poles and posts near stores were thoroughly plastered with posters calling for nickel bars.

"We want bigger and better chocolate bars at cheaper prices." "I'm one of the gang, 8-cent bars can go to hang," and "I buy potato chips instead of bars," were slogans Victoria children used yesterday.

The boycott may become even stronger tomorrow as Youth Action Committee officials meet tonight to discuss plans for the campaign.

Some parent-teacher groups in the city, hailing the spirit of the children, said the youngsters were presenting a challenge to grown-ups.

Children of James Bay district were also noticed yesterday as they presented their case in the form of explanatory placards.

"Eight-cent bars are unfair to kids," was the placard that probably caused the most comment from passers-by. Children at Douglas and Beacon Streets displayed this placard appealing to adults.

Up-Island, the boycott against the 8-cent bars gained momentum, with almost all centres reporting a shortage of teen-age buyers.

At Port Alberni the question of an organized boycott will be discussed by Teen Town on Tuesday night.

At Courtenay the youngsters are using the sidewalks to voice their indignation. "Don't buy chocolate bars" is the sign seen on many walks.

Picketing is in full swing at Ladysmith. Friday night about 100 youngsters took part in a mass protest, going from one candy store to another. They also picketed a popular theatre where chocolate bars are sold.

Placards pinned to the blouses and jackets summed up the feeling of Chemainus youngsters: "Don't be a sucker. Don't buy 8-cent bars."

The children's strike has also spread to Vancouver. Members of the National Youth Federation met yesterday and appointed the first pickets to be placed around candy shops. A group of about 50 children paraded in the downtown business district demanding a 5-cent chocolate bar.

Many Wait in Queues For Meat and Butter

Meat and butter supplies in Victoria hit an all-time low yesterday according to a survey of dealers who termed the shortage "the worst in years."

"There just isn't any meat and very little butter available at all," one dealer commented.

Many of the stores have been open only "a few hours a day" since Wednesday because of the meat shortage, and very little beef, veal or lamb was available since early in the week. Bacon and ham and smoked meat were in little better supply, but still not in any quantity.

Yesterday householders lined up on downtown streets for more than a block in some cases waiting for stores to open to get first chance at available meat and butter supplies, and most stores, if they had any butter on hand, were selling a half pound to a customer while it lasted.

Reasons for the meat shortage were vague, according to dealers, who said there had been varying reports on the situation.

"We have been told the extreme Winter in the Prairie Provinces and in the East has held up beef cattle, and it may not be remedied until next year," one of them said.

Wholesalers, the dealer stated, just haven't been able to buy beef in any quantity.

Continued supply of new potatoes from California, of which one carload arrived last week, is uncertain due to the permit system which has replaced dumping duties, Victoria wholesalers said yesterday.

Permits have been issued to ensure another carload this week, but application for more permits has been refused. However, adequate supplies of old potatoes are on hand in city warehouses.

Fresh strawberries are arriving daily from California, it was stated, and a good supply of bananas was expected this week.

Hope Is Fading For Mine Men

MALARTIC, Que., April 26 (CP).—An authoritative source said tonight that "if a miracle takes place we may reach the men trapped in East Malartic mine within three days, otherwise it now seems it will take longer."

His statement indicated all hope of finding the men alive had been abandoned.

There now is no fire or smoke below the tenth level, where 11 men sought safety early Thursday when fire broke out.

The authoritative source said deadly carbon monoxide has been found below the tenth level. The 11 men had no special masks to combat it.

Relatives and friends of the trapped miners apparently took it for granted they were dead. Only a few townspeople gathered outside the mine gates. They came in groups, many of them women, sobbing, and stood about for only a few minutes.

Number of Tenants Consider Move As One Prepares to Leave Braefoot

One veteran tenant said yesterday that he, his wife and small child will leave their home on the Braefoot Estate because of the amount of trouble and worry the defective house has caused them.

"It is the worst eight months I have ever experienced in my whole life," said the veteran's wife, speaking of tenure in the Veterans' Land Act home.

Disconcerted with the number of defects cropping up, the veteran said he has bought a house and will leave Braefoot on May 10. What will happen to money he has invested, he says he does not know, but he added "We are absolutely fed up."

Before the 17 or more defects could be corrected in the house, the veteran tenant said he was informed, he would have to move out of the house.

Eight other veteran tenants, interviewed last night, said they were considering moving if repairs are not made to their houses, drainage of their land improved and the price of the houses reduced.

Colonel Wurtele, chief treasury officer for the V.L.A. in Ottawa, paid a visit to Braefoot yesterday, but Victoria V.L.A. officials termed the visit "unofficial."

It was reported the Ottawa official spoke to "very few" veterans, although many of them intimated they knew he was coming and purposely stayed at home.

"We waited all afternoon for him to come but unfortunately we never met him," said one veteran.

Expressing great dissatisfaction with Veterans' Affairs Minister Ian Mackenzie's reply to Braefoot veterans' 13-point questionnaire, Robert Knight, zone representative of the Canadian Legion, announced yesterday the entire issue would be aired at the Provincial Legion convention at Vernon commencing May 10.

Mr. Knight said the convention would be attended by representatives of all Legion branches in the province. He said that the matter would be "well thrashed out" at that time.

"We still want a 20 per cent reduction in the cost of the homes to the veterans regardless of how long Mr. Mackenzie evades the issue," stated Mr. Knight.

He pointed out that it was "clear that the Veterans' Minister was stalling for time because he feared a 20 per cent reduction granted to Victoria veterans would result in a deluge of requests from other Veterans' Land Act tenants throughout Canada.

"Tenants of V.L.A. projects clear across Canada are eagerly awaiting the outcome of Braefoot problems," said Mr. Knight.

Constellations Lower Record

SHANNON, Eire, April 26 (AP).—Two Constellations flying the Atlantic broke a week-old record for flights from Newfoundland to Shannon—with one, a British craft, setting a mark of five hours and 28 minutes.

Capt. O. P. Jones, veteran British pilot flying his last transocean trip for British Overseas Airways Corporation, shaved 27 minutes from the record of five hours 56 minutes set a week ago by Capt. Guy McCafferty of Pan-American Airways.

In the other plane, Capt. Jake Marcus of Pan-American finished the trip a few minutes faster than did McCafferty.

Gander, Nfld., is 2,014 air line miles from Shannon.

Police Catch Hunted Killer

PORTLAND, Ore., April 26 (AP).—The state police here tonight reported the arrest at Ordnance, Ore., of Omar Pinson, 28, hunted by police of two states in connection with the slaying of State Patrolman Delman E. Rondeau, 32, in a gun battle at Hood River Friday night.

The man was sighted on a freight train and arrested by police and men from the army depot at Ordnance.

Rondeau was killed within feet of the Hood River police station late Friday night while investigating an abandoned truck.

Pinson told his captors he meant only to "scare away" Rondeau.

"I didn't mean to kill him. I was scared. I just wanted to scare him away."

Palestine Police Officer Shot, Prepare to Combat Terrorism

JERUSALEM, April 26 (AP).—Two young Jews who fired from a passing taxi cut down a senior Palestine police officer today as he stepped from his automobile in Haifa, bringing to 14 the death toll in a week of vengeful warfare against the British by the Jewish underground.

The Jewish Agency, political representative of the Holy Land's 600,000 Jews, was reported preparing new proposals to the Palestine Government for combating terrorism. These include establishment of security patrols by armed members of Hgana, the reputed 60,000-strong clandestine Jewish "defence army" which works closely with the Jewish Agency, a reliable informant said.

A. E. Conquest, head of the Haifa Criminal Investigation Department, was shot twice in the abdomen by his assailants, whose taxi crashed into a traffic island as it sped from the scene. The two men leaped out and escaped on foot.

In the past week the Jewish underground mined a troop train, killing eight persons, and blew up a police billet in Sarona, suburb of Tel Aviv, killing five British police officials.

Irgun Zvai Leumi said it was responsible for Tuesday's train blasting and the Stern gang claimed responsibility for yesterday's explosion at Sarona. They are the two underground groups which have dedicated themselves to warfare against the British authorities in Palestine.

The violence was touched off after the British executed Dov Bela Gruner and three other members of Irgun Zvai Leumi as convicted terrorists. And two underground members cheated the gallows by committing suicide. Irgun vowed "blood-for-blood" retaliation.

Latest tactics of Irgun is an attempt to infiltrate British Army camps as civilian workers, one source said.

U.S. Manufacturers Report Price Cuts Impossible Now

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP).—The National Association of Manufacturers said today one out of every five members replying to a questionnaire reported price cuts had been made since the first of the year on at least one product, while the remaining four answering had made none.

The questionnaire was sent on April 10 to 16,563 members, and the survey is based on replies from the first 5,742. It showed: 1,194 members reporting price cuts, or 20.8 per cents of those replying; 4,450 reporting no price cuts, or 77.2 per cent of those replying; 98, or 2 per cent of those replying, left that part of the questionnaire blank. The members were not queried on whether they had made any price increases.

Manufacturers said the main reasons they could not make price cuts now were: First, the uncertainty of costs and supply of materials; second, uncertainty as to future wage scales; and third, what they termed low labor efficiency.

The N.A.M. published the first results of its questionnaire at the close of a week of wide public discussion of prices, highlighted by inauguration, Tuesday, at Newburyport, Mass., of a community plan for a 10 per cent across-the-board price reduction. A spokesman for Newburyport's development council estimated that at least 100 communities throughout the nation either had put the plan into effect or were planning to. The leather and shoe industry led all groups in reporting price reductions had been made. Of those answering the questionnaire, 43.9 per cent reported cuts.

Food and beverage industries were second, with 36.2 per cent reporting cuts.

Saturday Sees Soaring Sales

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., April 26 (AP).—Retail merchants reported sales 40 per cent above a normal Saturday today as hundreds of shoppers from surrounding communities flocked into town to participate in Newburyport's anti-inflation experiment.

Norman J. Randell, executive secretary of the old seaport city's development council, said inquiries concerning the 10 per cent price cut plan were flooding in from communities spread from coast to coast.

Most of the inquiries, he added, were from communities of less than 50,000 population and he said that he believed the smaller cities and towns were most interested because their merchants were "closer to the people."

Newburyport has a population of 15,000 but is the shopping centre for about 45,000.

The "Newburyport plan," under which retail merchants have cut prices 10 per cent across the board, started last Tuesday and was scheduled to run for ten days but sponsors of the idea were considering indefinite continuance. Action on continuing the plan will be taken at a meeting Monday.

As the experiment spread from coast to coast, a spokesman for the development council said at least 100 communities either had put the plan into operation or were ready to do so. A few opposition notes crept in.

Judge Rules Will Invalid

VANCOUVER, April 26 (CP).—Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane has ruled in supreme Court that Mrs. Frances Gilmore Clark, 82, was not of sound mind and disposing memory when she made a will shortly before her death in 1945, and that the will made ten years ago was valid.

Judgment was given by Mr. Justice Macfarlane in a case heard last Summer when Dr. C. N. Clark, 50, asked Supreme Court formally to approve a will by which he would have taken all but $10,000 of his mother's $80,000 estate. Under terms of the earlier will, the estate will be divided equally between Dr. Clark and his brother, Prof. R. J. Clark, of Ganges, B.C.

"The (second) will was prepared under the direction of Cuthbert, who takes a benefit under it, and under circumstances which raised in my mind a definite and well-grounded suspicion which he has failed to remove," Mr. Justice Macfarlane said.

"His own self-interest and his enmity against his brother found expression in constant pressure he exerted over his mother, which prevented her from acting freely."

Cuthbert told the court that in 1943 he had given up his career to take care of his mother and he considered his time was worth at least $1,000 a month, in view of what he had sacrificed.

Mystery Ends For Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, April 26 (CP).—Winnipeg citizens relaxed today in the knowledge that the missile which Thursday night crashed through a downtown roof was not an iron bolt from the blue.

In point of fact, it was part of the fly-wheel of a wood-sawing machine operating four blocks away from the scene. This was announced today by city police.

The mystery, which brought on all sorts of strange theories, was solved early today by Martin Rygiel, who told police that Thursday night his sawing machine suddenly emitted a loud report and stopped operating.

When the explosion sounded Rygiel and his assistant, Nick Paul, dodged. When they looked around the yard, the mechanism of the sawing machine machine was scattered on the ground and the fly-wheel had disappeared.

One 15½-inch chunk of the wheel tore through the roof of a house four blocks away; another piece dug into a nearby lawn.

Spring House Cleaning Proves No Idle Chore When Rummaging Reveals $12,000

CHARDON, O., April 26 (AP).—Spring house cleaning was considered a worthy enterprise today by Asher Hill, 70-year-old resident of nearby Chester—for a day of rummaging in his attic netted him the tidy sum of $12,000.

Opening a small, moldy suitcase in the attic of his residence Hill's eyes popped when the $12,000 stack of old-style large bills popped out.

The money was the property of Corwin Stockham, [illegible] ago.

Say "Music Master X" Scoring Mental Gains

DETROIT, April 26 (AP).—A year's progress my "Music Master X," the mental patient who attracted nation-wide attention by his brilliant piano recital before the National Federation of Music Clubs one year ago, was reported today to the federal convention.

A report of "real and definite progress," was made by Dr. Ira M. Altshuler, who has given music therapy treatments at Eloise Mental Hospital to the former concert pianist and teacher.

"Music Master X," whose identity is kept secret, at one time was considered a "hopeless" mental case.

"A year ago he could play the piano but could not co-ordinate his mind and hands enough to turn the pages of his music," Dr. Altshuler said. "Today he does so.

"He now chooses the music he wants to play instead of waiting for us to tell him what to play.

"It is of extreme significance to see that he no longer likes to play Chopin, but prefers Bach. In our terminology, Bach's music is of a masculine influence. Technically, this is a matter of great importance."

Reviewing the case history of "X," Dr. Altshuler told the convention that at one time the musician was unable to dress himself, feed himself or engage in a conversation.

Music therapy was applied, climaxed by last year's recital by the mental patient before the federation.

"He has very few relapses now," said Dr. Altshuler. "He is markedly happier, and he converses more and more as the weeks pass.

"It is impossible to take a patient who has been in the hospital for nine years and cure him instantly, but with the aid of his love for music our ultimate aim is to return 'X' to society."

Say Duce's Son In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, April 26 (AP).—The newspapers Critica and La Razon said today they were able to confirm rumors that Vittorio Mussolini was in Argentina and was trying to "legalize his situation" after entering the country unlawfully.

Earlier the weekly newspaper Sabado published a story saying the son of the late Duce had visited that newspaper's offices. Sabado printed a picture of a bearded man which it said was Mussolini.

Government officials said that if Mussolini is here he is here illegally. The Italian Embassy said it had no information. Luigi Ferrari, chief of Italian Federal police, said in Italy last week that Vittorio, seen in Milan shortly before that city was liberated in April, 1945, was wanted for collaboration with the Germans.

Union Council Calls Holiday

DETROIT, April 26 (AP).—The Foundry Council of the C.I.O. Auto Workers' Union, despite the wave of contract settlements, has called for a national holiday by all organized labor to protest what they term anti-labor legislation.

Log-Rolling Will Feature Manitoba Sportsmen's Show

WINNIPEG, April 27 (CP).—Two of the most promising candidates for the world's championship log-rolling crown will perform in a huge water tank at the Manitoba Sportsmen's Show, which opens at the Civic Auditorium here April 29.

Log-rolling will be but one of the many attractions lined up for the five-day exhibition, which follows hard on the heels of the National Sportsmen's Show held in Ottawa during the past week.

Designed to promote Canada's role as a paradise for sportsmen, both the Winnipeg and Ottawa Exhibitions are patterned somewhat after sportsmen's shows held in a number of United States cities.

The Manitoba show is a follow-up on extensive publicity spotted throughout both the United States and Canada by the Provincial Department of Mines and Natural Resources, under whose jurisdiction falls the province's tourist trade.

The show, within the confines of the auditorium, will provide actual demonstrations of many of the attractions offered to tourists in the Dominion.

The two log-rolling champions will do their balancing act in a huge tank located on the floor of the auditorium. They are Frank Peloquin, who won the national roleo at Gladstone, Mich., last year, and Leonard Roy, former holder of the junior crown for Fort Frances, Ont.

A trio of roller skaters will spin on a floating raft. An adagio team will perform their musical dance from the raft and archers will demonstrate the skill of the bow and arrow with shots from the balcony to the stage.

Selected sporting and travel movies will be run in one of the rooms during the show, many of the pictures having been obtained from the Ottawa Sportsmen's Show. Their showing here by the National Film Board will mark their first appearance in Western Canada.

Numerous booths are being set up in the display section, publicizing fishing, hunting, trapping and many other angles of outdoor life.

Phone Strikes "Not Hopeless"

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP).—Federal conciliators said tonight they are carefully developing a program "which may be fruitful" in bringing an end to the 20-day-old telephone strike.

Peter J. Nanno and William N. Margolis, two conciliation service members, expressed that view after a conference with the striking National Federation of Telephone Workers and telephone management representatives.

Both men added, however:

"The situation still continues to be most difficult but certainly not hopeless."

Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach had taken a hand in the negotiations in which the Government is seeking to break the impasse between the American Telephone & Telegraph Company, parent of the Bell System companies, and the unions.

Three sets of negotiations were under way during the day as the Government, in a fresh burst of mediation activity, sought to get the 340,000 strikers back to their posts.

Noted Social Leader, Owner Of Ill-Omened Diamond, Dies

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP).—Mrs. Evalyn Walsh McLean, 60, Washington social leader for many years and owner of the famous "Hope" diamond, died tonight.

She had been ill for several days with pneumonia. Death occurred at the family home in Georgetown.

She was the widow of Edward Beale McLean, heir to The Washington Post and The Cincinnati Enquirer, and the daughter of Thomas Walsh, who founded a huge fortune on the free milling gold of the Camp Bird Mine in Colorado.

Surviving are two sons, John, who lives in Texas, and Edward, Jr., who makes headquarters in Colorado Springs, Colo., to manage his mother's mining interests.

Another survivor is Mamie Spears Reynolds, four, daughter of former Senator Robert R. Reynolds and the late Mrs. Evalyn McLean Reynolds. The mother, daughter of Mrs. McLean, died last September 30 from an overdose of sleeping medicine.

Mrs. McLean, a fabulous social figure who wore the evil-omened Hope diamond for a luck charm, had a life of contrasts.

She spent her first years in a two-room log cabin and spent a good part of her later years in a mansion designed to entertain royalty.

She collected gems by the handful and pawned them often. She had the great 44½ karat Hope diamond blessed by a priest and claimed it brought her good fortune, but never would let her children touch it.

EVALYN WALSH McLEAN

She entertained the world's notables at lavish parties at the family's "Friendship" estate, and bought sandwiches for bonus marchers after the Great War.

She spent $104,000 and traveled half way across the country in an effort to ransom the kidnapped Lindbergh baby, only to learn she had been the victim of a hoax.

Charge U.S. Customs Bureau With "Gross Incompetence"

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP).—Senators in charge of appropriations studied today a committee report charging the United States Customs Bureau with "gross incompetence" and a "bald attempt" to pressure Congress for money.

As a result of the report, Senator Cordon (Republican, Oregon) indicated, the bureau will have a tough time persuading the appropriations sub-committee to restore a $3,000,000 House slash in funds for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Cordon said he hopes the report, by the Senate expenditures committee, will serve as a warning to other Government agencies protesting House cuts in their appropriations.

The expenditures group said the bureau should be "thoroughly overhauled" and forced to get by with the $32,500,000 the House voted to give it.

It added that dismissal notices the bureau sent to 1,500 border and port patrol officers after the House acted were "completely unwarranted" and a "bald attempt to arouse the public into demanding a restoration of the reduction in expenditures."

The report said the bureau could save some $350,000 a year it now pays for overtime if it staggered the 40-hour week of its employees to cover Saturdays and Sundays.

Senator Aiken (Republican, Vermont) classed 56 well-paying jobs in the Customs Bureau as political plums and announced plans to knock them off in an economy shakeup.

The political plums, Aiken told a reporter, are posts of collectors of customs and "other political appointees that are costing the Government more than $400,000 a year."

The committee already has found that two of the "political appointees" are "at least 80 years of age and physically unqualified for the work," while another recently replaced "was a practising physician who visited the customs office about once every two weeks—presumably on pay days."

Air Strength Boost Urged

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP).—Paul H. Griffith, American Legion national commander, said tonight the United States should increase its air power because Russia is expanding her "iron curtain" skyward.

Griffith announced Legion plans for more than 100 local and regional air power conferences throughout the United States this Spring and Summer to stimulate interest in air power.

TREES SEEDED BY AIR

SAULT STE MARIE, Ont., April 26 (CP).—Believed to be the first work of its kind on the continent, a Lands and Forest Department plane has been broadcasting white and red pine and spruce seed over 600 acres of burned timberland 60 miles northeast of here.

. . Oddities . .

KENTVILLE, N.S., April 26 (CP).—Alex Forrest of nearby Aldershot, whose 30-day sentence for drunkenness ended yesterday, left from in front of the jail in a car. But it wasn't his and he was back in prison today for another year.

Forrest, 23, arrested 30 minutes after he left jail and charged with stealing an automobile, pleaded guilty and drew a one-year sentence.

CHICAGO, April 26 (AP).—Albert T. Anderson, 77, lost his wallet containing $99 and turned all the money over to the finder.

His loss occurred in the County Treasurer's office while he was there to pay his taxes.

When Anderson returned several days after the loss, he found the wallet and money waiting for him. He handed the money back to the treasurer.

LONDON, April 26 (AP).—All during the war Londoners puzzled over why a bobby stood guard in front of a closed bronze door in the Leicester Square subway station in the centre of the city.

Today they finally got the answer.

The London Transport System published a booklet telling its war secrets, one of which was that behind that bronze door was the whole complicated apparatus controlling floodgates designed to keep the Thames out of the subway in the event of a bomb hit on a tube under the river.

Newly Recommissioned Ship Will Start Training Cruises

The trim frigate H.M.C.S. Antigonish was recommissioned at a brief but impressive naval ceremony held yesterday morning at Esquimalt.

Built at Yarrows Ltd., the warcraft will be commanded by Lieut.-Cmdr. J. E. Wolfenden, R.C.N. (R), former commanding officer of H.M.C.S. Charlottetown, decommissioned March 31.

Attending the ceremony yesterday morning was Rear-Admiral E. R. Mainguy, O.B.E., R.C.N., Officer Commanding Pacific Coast. In an address to the ships' company, he praised the men for the way in which they had worked hard to get the ship in shape for the recommissioning ceremony.

With Rear-Admiral Mainguy was Capt. V. S. Godfrey, R.C.N., Chief of Staff.

H.M.C.S. Antigonish will commence a series of training cruises in British Columbia waters. She will undergo engine and firing trials this week. On board the frigate while training cruises are underway will be university naval training division men from all parts of Canada, and naval reservists. The ship will be stationed at Esquimalt naval base.

ASK PRICE INCREASE

Members of the British Columbia section of the National Association of Master Plumbers and Heating Contractors of Canada, meeting in convention yesterday at the Empress Hotel, endorsed a resolution calling for a 33 1-3 per cent increase in the retail price of plumbing materials.

Mark-up in prices "was too low in comparison with price of other materials," it was pointed out.

WARSHIPS DUE

Naval officials yesterday announced the cruiser H.M.C.S. Uganda would dock at the main jetty at Esquimalt harbor at approximately noon today. With her will be the destroyer Crescent.

Return of the warships to this base will mark the conclusion of another training cruise which took them as far south as San Diego, Calif. A large number of Victoria and Island men are on board both ships.

Uganda will be decommissioned in July.

MAY ATTEND FUNERAL

All children in Greater Victoria Schools will be dismissed from classes at 2:30 p.m. on Monday to attend the funeral of Dr. S. J. Willis.

EGGS MADE READY

Large quantities of eggs are being made ready for shipment for Britain, William Hagger, Dominion poultry and egg inspector for Vancouver Island, said yesterday.

Inspecting the eggs on wholesale row Mr. Hagger said the eggs have been candled, stamped, checked for size, oiled and packed by the wholesalers. The eggs now have to be inspected by the government inspector before being admitted to storage.

AUTHOR COMING

Well known British author and broadcaster, Basil Woon, will arrive tomorrow in Vancouver for a short stay in the province to gather material for magazine articles.

During the war Mr. Woon wrote a number of books in England which had a wide Canadian circulation, including "Atlantic Front," "Hell Came to London," and "Eyes West."

His latest published book was a biography of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

ST. MARY'S GUILD

In order to discuss aims and objects of the newly formed Diocesan Men's Society, St. Mary's Men's Guild will hold a special meeting on Monday at 8 p.m. in St. Mary's Hall, Oak Bay.

TO ADDRESS GROUP

K. G. Slade, manager of industrial relations for the Navy on the west coast, will address a meeting of the Naval Employees' Group of the Amalgamated Civil Servants of Canada, Monday at 8 p.m. in Esquimalt Legion Hall, 622 Admirals Road.

An interesting program of moving pictures will also be shown, F. D. Hickman, group president, announced.

Thousands in City Drawn Outdoors By Forerunner of Summer Weather

Victoria had its first taste of real Summer weather yesterday, with the mercury climbing to 72 degrees in the early afternoon of a day filled with nearly 13 hours of continuous sunshine.

Crowds of Saturday shoppers thronged the warm streets, and dairies and drug store fountains reported a rush as the mercury climbed.

Quick to take advantage of the unusually fine weather, scores of people thronged parks and beaches in the city, and a few more venturesome were seen taking a quick dip in the cold water. Most, however, were content to loll in bathing suits, soaking up the sunshine.

Many persons in the city left for Up-Island points late yesterday and last night, and bus lines' officials reported unusually heavy traffic out of Victoria. Service station operators, too, noted a heavy rush of business as motorists planning drives filled their tanks preparatory to the trip.

Hotels in the city reported large numbers of out-of-town tourists visiting the city, many of them from points south of the border. At the Empress Hotel, for example, a large number of the arrivals yesterday were from the United States.

According to the weatherman, the fine weather is here to stay for a few days, and little change in temperature will be noted today.

Resident 90 Years Mrs. E. Peatt Dies

Lifelong resident of Victoria district, Mrs. Elizabeth Peatt, 90, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. Shields, Colwood.

Born in Craigflower in 1856, Mrs. Peatt was predeceased by her husband, Alfred T. Peatt, in 1940. Besides her daughter, she is survived by two sons, Ernest and Leslie, both of Colwood.

Funeral arrangements will be made later.

Mines Inspector Leaving Service

After 28 years as chief inspector of mines for the British Columbia Government, James Dickson will retire next Wednesday, it was announced yesterday.

During his long service in the Mines Department, Mr. Dickson has been credited with building up one of the finest mines inspection services on the continent.

Mr. Dickson joined the Provincial Mines Department staff in 1919 as inspector. He will continue to be active in the mining industry in this province after his retirement.

Many at Smoker Of Legion Branch

More than 500 members of the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion attended their Spring smoker Friday night.

The CJVI Hometowners including Bob McGill, Red Usher, Ernie Fullerton, Jeff Venables, Stan James and Cliff Potter provided the large audience with two hours of entertainment.

Many other performers, some impromptu volunteers, rounded out the evening, under the chairmanship of Alf Worthington. Don Oliver acted as master of ceremonies.

Candidates Greeted by Mayor As May Queen Contest Begins

Under clear and sunny skies, Victoria's May Queen contest got off to a flying start yesterday afternoon when seven pretty candidates were officially greeted by Mayor Percy E. George, and later taken on a parade through the downtown area in three large cars.

Hundreds of people gathered in front of the City Hall at 2:30 o'clock to see the girls leave on the procession, which took them through the entire business area. It was the initial opportunity for all Victorians to see the sextette of beauties who, until May 17, will be seeking May Queen honors. Mayor George also went on the trip.

Immediately prior to the parade, the Mayor met and greeted each candidate, expressing his congratulations to each. The candidates and their sponsors, in the order in which they were received by Mayor George, was as follows:

Ferne Clarke, Victoria Auto Rentals; Helen McCaughey, H.B.C. Beaver Club; Jessie Robertson, United Scottish Societies; Dorothy Saunders, Causeway Super-Service and Cec's U-Drive; Kay Trevelyan, Joint Council of Retail Employees; May Harris, City of Victoria Employees' Association, and Marjorie Ross, Youth Action Committee of Victoria.

GIRLS ACCOMPANIED BY CHAPERONE

With the girls was Mrs. R. Young, president of the Lions Club Women's Auxiliary, who will act as head chaperone for the candidates during the May Queen campaign.

The girls were accompanied to the mayor's office by Ted French, chairman of the Lions Club committee in charge of the May Queen event; Harvey Baldwin, secretary of the club committee, and Capt. Norman Foster, secretary of the Greater Victoria May 24 Celebrations Association.

In a brief address to the candidates, Mayor George praised each for her participation in the contest he described as "one of the major events of the entire May 24 celebrations program." He said each girl was doing a great deal toward making the festivity a success, and expressed congratulations and wishes for the best of luck on behalf of himself, the City Council, and citizens of Greater Victoria.

To Mr. French and Mr. Baldwin, Mayor George said: "I fully appreciate the work the Lions Club is doing in this event, and I am with you 100 per cent."

Voting for the candidates commenced yesterday afternoon, and will continue until May 17. Daily vote-count reports will be provided through facilities of The Daily Colonist and Radio Station CJVI.

Mr. Baldwin reported yesterday the girls would be fitted for their dresses next Wednesday afternoon. To be worn at various functions the candidates attend in the course of the campaign, these dresses will remain the property of the contestants.

Post Resigned By C. H. Booth

The Wartime Prices and Trade Board representative in Victoria, C. H. Booth, has resigned after five years' service to become manager of Island Finances, Ltd., it was announced here yesterday.

Mr. Booth said, in announcing his retirement, that he appreciated "the co-operation shown the administration of wartime controls by suppliers of goods and services in this area."

Consumers also enabled the board to administer the regulations to best advantage, he added.

"A measure of control over certain commodities and services still will be necessary for some time," he said, "and it is every citizen's duty to buy only what he needs of goods in short supply and a reasonable and just price for them."

Receives Remand On Theft Charge

Charged with breaking and entering and theft in the premises of R. Angus, Ltd., on the night of April 14, a 16-year-old youth appeared in juvenile court yesterday and was remanded until Monday.

The boy was arrested by Detectives Angus Munro and Louis Callon on Friday.

Cash totaling $191 and several cheques were stolen from the premises when the safe dial was knocked off and the heavy door forced open, police reported.

Building Costs To Be Topic Of Discussion

What has been termed "the present serious situation of high building costs throughout Canada," will be discussed in detail at a dinner meeting of the Victoria Builders' Exchange to be held Monday at the Empress Hotel starting at 6:30 p.m.

V. L. Leigh, president of the organization, who recently returned from an emergency meeting of the Canadian Construction Association held in Montreal early this month, will be the main speaker. He will present a detailed review of the Eastern Canadian conference.

Need for new school buildings in this area will be brought to the attention of the members by Austin Curtis, chairman of the Greater Victoria School Board, who will attend as a guest speaker. Members of the British Columbia Contractors' Association have been invited to attend the Monday night dinner meeting.

Officials of the Victoria Builders' Exchange yesterday said their organization was anxious to bring to public attention the fact that contractors are now doing all possible to halt further boosts in the cost of construction in this city, and throughout the country.

Injury to Youth Is Investigated

Police are still investigating the circumstances surrounding the injury to 18-year-old Bernard Bowcott, 2173 Fair Street, who was found in a semi-conscious condition in an alley between Bastion and Yates Streets early yesterday morning.

Taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in a taxi about 1:10 a.m., Bowcott was found to be suffering from a bad gash on the head. He was unable at the time to give police any information as to how the injury was sustained.

According to Walter Smith, 19, 4 Gorge Road, who said he had accompanied the injured youth to a dance Friday night, he left Bowcott near the alley while he went to get a taxi. On returning with the car he said Bowcott was found unconscious and suffering from head injuries.

Wooden Panels Designed To Add Beauty to Ship

Apart from the major job of repairs and reconversion now under way on board the C.P.R. coastal steamer Princess Kathleen, a number of "sideline" projects aimed at adding beauty to the passenger vessel have been undertaken.

Among these is the work, now nearing completion, on a large oak plaque which is to be placed in a conspicuous location in the ship. Measuring three by eight feet in size, this work of art will depict a historical scene of British Columbia, and is being carved by a former Royal Canadian Navy officer at Victoria Machinery Depot Co., Ltd., where the passenger ship is being reconverted.

The carving has been done in the shipyard polishing shop, in which a great deal of other work of a similar "finish" nature is under way. It is here that employees are busy each day polishing strips of moulding and other woodwork on which a high gloss finish is required.

A Victoria firm is also working on a number of wooden panels, being artistically made with inlaid patterns. These will be located at various points through the ship and will be installed as the reconversion project nears completion.

WILSON MOTORS INSTALL NEW EQUIPMENT

The new Sun Testing Equipment shown above is the latest addition to Wilson Motors Repair Department. With it, it is possible to test accurately the complete operation of the motor under actual operating conditions. The unit on the right will analyze the air-gasoline mixture in the carburetor, eliminating all guesswork, and the spark plugs may be tested for leakage not normally testable. The tachometer will read any engine speed from 0 to 5,000 r.p.m., allowing the idling speed to be set accurately, a feature of special importance to cars with the new Hydramatic Drive. Distributor points may be set under operating conditions and allowance made for minor wear. All makes of coils may be tested right in the car. The whole unit is self-contained and portable and it may be moved to any part of the shop or even out on the street without difficulty.

The second unit shown is the Sun Distributor Machine. It is used in the overhaul of distributors after they have been removed from the car. The distributor is set in the machine and driven under actual operating conditions. All defects are revealed and all final adjustments made before the distributor is replaced in the car.

Mr. Al Atfield, shown here with the equipment, is in charge of the electrical department and is responsible for the operation of these new machines. ...

Laughter

Laugh, and the world laughs with you, said a modern poet, and who will deny that the world of the present would be better for more of this form of human expression. A long face begets a long face, while a smiling countenance invites a like response. Even Job, not commonly associated with merriment, spoke of the mouth being filled with laughter and the lips with rejoicing. In some ways it may seem that the world's future appears too full of darkness to permit of much rejoicing, but that itself makes the need for laughter all the more pressing.

It is laughter, the cheeriness compounded of good will and generosity, that could be the antidote to the world's ills. Animosities tend to fade if they are met amiably rather than with malice. The angry man is disarmed when his opponent meets him with a smile. This does not mean that life for most people should become an unintelligent simper, but that cordiality can smooth the roughs and pave the path with pleasant footsteps. Everyone knows the exhilarating effect of a companion of sunny nature, and the echo it invokes in oneself. The sun shines more clearly then, with a genial radiance that lights up the dark corners and dispels the gloom.

There are few of us but could profit by giving way to the impulse to smile more often; to learn to look with tolerant eyes at the foibles of others; to be ready with the laughter that symbolizes goodfellowship. In Ecclesiasties, at iii, 4, it is written: "There is a time to weep, and a time to laugh." The latter hour is now. True laughter, that redolent of the spirit of good will, could do much to enrich the world and all those within it.

Moscow Conference

While cabinet ministers are apt to speak for publication more optimistically than they may feel in reality, the disappointing result of the Moscow conference may be partially offset by the conviction of Mr. Bevin that four-power unity was stronger as a result of the "frankness" exhibited by the participants during discussions. As to that, the public would not know of its own account, since the talks were held in private. It may be assumed, then, that no reservations inhibited the conference, and that each of the powers concerned knows exactly where the others stand. In the long run that should be all to the good.

It was perhaps a needful reminder that the British Foreign Secretary issued when he compared the present attempt to create a German peace settlement with that which followed the Great War. There is one very important difference, and it composes the rock upon which conciliation has so far been frustrated. As a state Germany has disappeared; no government or constitution exists with which to negotiate or co-ordinate. A new state has to be created, and the question of what kind of postwar German state should be erected is what causes the fundamental cleavage between Western and Soviet viewpoints. All other issues, while complementary, are subordinate to this one cardinal discrepancy.

Time is not limitless. The peace of Europe, and therefore perhaps of the world, rests in great measure on a settlement of the German question. It may be, however, that it was too much to expect that the Moscow conference should cross all the t's and dot the i's at this stage. Perhaps a real step forward has been accomplished, difficult though it may be for outside observers to appreciate the fact. The Foreign Ministers will meet again in London in November, perhaps even before that in New York. The interval may prove fruitful in composing what appear at present to be rather irreconcilable differences.

Formal farewell banquets at which good will toasts are exchanged are customary diplomatic protocol, and no profit is to be gained by over-emphasizing their significance. Diplomatic courtesies are not to be construed as necessary criterions. Nevertheless, the amity reported to have been prevalent as the Foreign Ministers gathered socially prior to the departure of visiting delegates, invites the thought that some of its flavor may still be in evidence when serious discussions are resumed six months hence. It is to be sincerely hoped so.

The Domestic Cow

The recent butter shortage brings to mind the value of the humble cow in our domestic economy. In these days there are many devices for producing synthetic foods in more or less artificial quantities, but the cow is a food producing machine that surpasses them all. She takes the grass of the field and converts it into milk, butter and cheese. Not only that, but she afterwards gives herself as a sacrifice to mankind's carnivorous appetite, and reappears on the table in the form of roasts, boils and stews. Daily men remake themselves from the substance of mother cow.

She also yields her hide to the tanner to be converted into the covering most frequently found in the soles of boots and shoes. If, as Carlyle says, to the man who wears shoes the globe is covered with leather, how much of that comfortable footing do we owe to the cow.

Perhaps the cow has been most signally noted in India, where, by many, she is regarded as a sacred animal that must neither be hurt or killed. It is true that to us this seems to lead to abuse, since the cow, when old, useless and weak, is allowed to wander at will deriving a living from land sorely needed for other purposes among an ill-fed people. [illegible] is a tribute to the cow so pronounced that it has become a religious tabu. There used to be argument as to whether horse or cow was most useful to mankind, but since mechanical power has dethroned the horse there should now be no question that if a crown is to go to the animal world, it should be awarded to gentle and serviceable queen cow.

Fairbridge Farm

It is gratifying to note that the Fairbridge Farm School has just completed a successful year. This institution, that counts 61 boy and 21 girl pupils on its rolls, is performing a work that may prove a good example and an incentive to others to follow suit. British boys and girls are brought out and given instruction that should fit them particularly to follow agricultural work in British Columbia. In this way they learn more effectively than they possibly could have done had they first taken their training in the Old Land. They become acquainted with the soils and climate and learn what products can be most successfully grown in various parts of the Province.

That the work is developing is shown by the clearing of 40 additional acres of land, and the clearing provides a valuable lesson in itself to those who may in future find it necessary to hew a farm out of the forest. Hand in hand with this go lessons in horticulture, dairying and poultry raising, essention to a proper understanding of industries so vital to this province. Food production is the prime basis of life, and an effort such as that of the Fairbridge Farm School to train young people to that end, deserves every encouragement.

Churchill's Memoirs

Great works are not usually written for money, and it seems apparent that in so far as the result to himself is concerned, Winston Churchill's war memoirs will be no different. It is reported that from the $1,000,000 which it is expected he will receive from the American serial rights to his books, the British Government will appropriate no less than $975,000 for income tax. Subsequent sales in Britain or elsewhere would also be taxable at the rate of 19 shillings and sixpence in the pound.

The former Prime Minister is said to be sitting up in bed every morning working steadily on what may well prove to be a literary masterpiece as well as a historical record beyond any price. For this prodigious labor—his memoirs may stretch into six volumes—Mr. Churchill will receive a net remuneration amounting to no more than ten cents for every four dollars worth of production at market value rates. It is not money, of course, which drives Mr. Churchill to what at his age is a great task; it is the knowledge that he alone can give to the world an unrivaled picture of the war in which he was the chief architect of victory.

Sea of Beauty

"A flower," wrote Carlyle, "is an eye looking forth from the hidden sea of beauty." But in Victoria there is no such hidden sea. In early Spring it comes in waves of yellow daffodils with their train of buttercups and daisies. Then arise the tulips, regal in purple garb, followed by all the gaily clad courtiers of their gardens.

On the trees that line the streets comes the first white wave of the Japanese plum, followed closely by the pink loveliness of the lowlier cherry of the same native origin. Then flow in the waves of May blossoms in varied whites and reds, or the chestnuts gemmed with their living candelabra like lights upon the sea. On every side the tide of beauty rolls in to garland the streets with oceanic profusion.

Again it comes in waves of gold over the broom upon the hillsides, or floods the gardens with roses of many hues, while by many a fence and wall the hollyhocks rise in regal grace. Pinks, phlox and asters come in profusion till the tide ebbs away in the fading hues of the late chrysanthemums. Throughout the season the city is inundated with the sea of beauty, hidden only through the Winter months.

High Flight

Oh, I have slipped the surly bonds of earth
And danced the skies on laughter-silvered wings;
Sunward I've climbed and joined the tumbling mirth
Of sun-split clouds— and done a hundred things
You have not dreamed of—wheeled and soared and swung
High in the sunlit silence. Hov'ring there,
I've chased the shouting winds along and flung
My eager craft through footless halls of air.
Up, up the long delirious, burning blue
I've topped the wind-swept heights with easy grace,
Where never lark, or even eagle, flew;
And, while with silent, lifting mind I've trod
The high untrespassed sanctity of space,
Put out my hand and touched the face of God.

The Third—Column

TELESCOPING TIME

The mind can telescope itself with a speed that has no mechanical counterpart, so when we read that four more Britons had been killed in Palestine, this time in the Tel Aviv suburb of Sarona, 30 years ago seemed as close again as last night. Such is the miracle of thought, wherein, who knows, lies the secret of this dimension we call time.

There was a war going on when we were in Sarona, a circumstance not deemed to be operative today in Palestine; but the pleasant hours we spent there were apparently halcyon compared to life there now. Although in the same kind of uniform no terrorists sought to make us innocent victims of their spite.

Sarona had been a German village not long before, so it was a pretty place, shady and restful. Germans are tidy folk physically if not mentally, and we fell heir to their municipal competence. All the streets were lined with trees, and white-washed buildings gave the village a well-planned appearance. East of Sarona there was attractive country to explore—cactus lanes, orange groves, olive and almond plantations, and from rising ground you could view the fine landscape of the Judean Hills.

A ROOF AND A COLD

To the west there were more fields and gentle country—but no Tel Aviv, which has arisen and spread itself between Sarona and the Mediterranean since then.

Our sojourn in Sarona was the first time many of us had been under a roof since leaving Southampton three years before, so we proceeded to develop what you would expect—common colds.

No German village would be complete without a wine factory. There was one in Sarona, where they used to make red wine and cognac. We say used to, for when we were there any liquids left behind had long since gone the way that liquids of this nature go, down some human throat. The vats were still there, however, and they could be put to use.

They were, but not the way you might think; they were utilized to bring external, not internal, comfort to the troops; which means they were converted into baths.

Cleanliness being next to godliness is a motto the army is wont to pursue with fervor, as many Victorians well know. It's needed sometimes, at that. There's always a percentage who have to be scrubbed forcibly if they are not to contaminate their buddies even more distastefully than that persistent camp follower, the humble but inquisitorial louse.

UNEXPECTED TREAT

A bath in unlimited amounts of water was an unexpected treat, of course. Except when we happened to be cavorting near the sea, water was mostly a mirage in the Middle East of those days. When you raise a thirst East of Suez you may be doing a man's job, as Kipling would seem to imply, but a quart or even a pint per day, as the ration often was, does not leave much left over for daily ablutions.

We can remeber having a bath, all over, in exactly one quart of water. Until we got to Sarona we had been rather proud of the feat. It took place in a trench, and it was rather a trick. The only available accessories, besides the precious water, were a ground-sheet, a piece of soap, a sponge, and a hole in the ground. You made a sloping excavation about three inches deep and ten inches across, and spread the groundsheet, rubber side up, over it. Then you disrobed and poised yourself carefully so that every drop of water you used ran down into the hole, to be used again and again until you had finished.

VANTAGE POINT VIEW

It's true that from the vantage point of a nicely-enamelled bathroom this doesn't seem much of a bath, but if you've been compelled to wear the same shirt for some 30 days and nights without change it's wonderful what a quart of water can do for you. There are times in life, you know, when one can't be too fastidious.

In Sarona there was no need to resort to such desperate measures. There were the wine vats, and they were of ample proportions. If you were alone in one you could almost have a swim; and if you weren't—there's no false modesty about the army, you know—you could rub your own back without mistaking it for your neighbor's.

There were other reminiscences of Sarona that flashed instantaneously to mind. It was from a nearby airstrip we took off on our first plane trip, and the nicety with which the pilot measured the height of a cactus hedge surrounding the field as he came in to land still makes us wonder.

It was in that little Palestinian village, too, that an eminent duke came to inspect us, and we can picture yet his portly little figure mounting the wooden steps that made getting astride a horse play for a child. Then there were mas-querades, soccer matches, sports days, and a dozen other diversions.

Sarona to us was merely a temporary interlude in a serious business. This little picturesque village was not the storm centre it seems to be now; where men not unlike those who were there 30 years ago are also experiencing an interlude, but of the opposite kind, and one which this column hopes will be mercifully short.

"I SEEM TO BE GETTING SMALLER AND SMALLER"

When Listening to Good "Music" — Relax

By JOHN HALLSTROM
North American Newspaper Alliance

NEW YORK, April 26. — Everybody likes music of one kind or another; we hum, whistle, dance and, all in all (except when we go about it officially or deliberately), we approach music without too much inhibition. But when most of us sit down to listen to music—just to listen—the guard comes up and we begin to worry about meanings and definitions.

I used to travel about the country trying to tell young salesmen about the brilliant future there was for them in the phonograph record business. I always found myself snowed under with questions: "What's a symphony?"—"What's a concerto?"—"What's meant by a prelude?"—"What do people see in chamber music?"

If you do know something about music from the technical standpoint, that is your good fortune—just as it helps a golfer to know the meaning of "fairway" or "divot" or "tee." But the fairway's there to be played on and the tee to be played from even if you don't know what it's called.

And if you don't know anything about music, you are simply part of a great audience for whom, I believe, the composers, in the final analysis, have really written music.

Remember: Music is sound. There is no other way to absorb it than by your ear. It has nothing to do with starched shirts or diamond tiaras. It hasn't politics or class of nationality. It is played for you; yours to say "This, I don't like," or "Bethoven must have been a swell fellow." It is yours for fun, for toe-tickling, for dreaming, for humming—and for thinking great or little thoughts to.

All of which brings us to the business of listening. I'm not going to tell you what you should like. That's your business. I'm just going to get enthusiastic—and let you find out for yourself. How? By listening.

Music breaks into two types. There is representational (or program) music, and pure, nonrepresentational music.

In program music, the composers sometimes tell a direct story. Richard Strauss is a good one for that. Some others just try to make the listener feel in his mind what they felt when thinking of the women they loved or contemplating a bit of scenery. And which one of us hasn't said to some girl, "This is our song," because you heard it together, or remarked to a crony, "Remember when . . . ?" in the case of some other tune?

When you listen, judge the music as it sounds—not by any other standard. No matter how successfully a composer has conveyed to you the idea he has in mind, if you don't like the way it sounds, then the composer has failed as far as you are concerned.

We've all heard people say, "Well, I sort of like to know the story behind the music. I can understand it better." That really doesn't make too much sense, because there is lots of music they hum and whistle all their lives which has absolutely no story at all. Take the man who gets up in the morning and bellows happily in the shower, for the sheer joy of making a musical sound—no story—just pure music. Yet this same man, in the evening, goes to a concert with his wife and you see him sitting, searching through the program to get "the story" behind the music. I always want to say, "Sit back, mister! Relax! It's probably Beethoven singing in the bathtub!" Yes, that's pure, non-representational music.

Painting poses the same sort of problem. Some folks will look at a bit of completely abstract art—just a pattern of shades and lines and colors—and shake their heads and wonder who is crazy. But these same people will go to a tailor shop and feel pleased as Punch about a piece of tweed which, after all, is nothing more than a pattern of colors, shapes and lines—completely abstract!

Some of us will look at a particularly thrilling sunset and rhapsodize. But if we saw these same masses of color, without a horizon, on a canvas, we would and do, I think, throw up our guard. The same applies to pure music. We should listen to it as sound and forget the program notes until the concert is over.

RETAIN CITY HALL

Sir,—I would like to suggest that the City Hall be remodelled even if it does cost $50,000 to $100,000. We will be well away, as we have over 900 square feet on the westerly side if required for any additions.

This is one of the finest sites in the city and is covered by three streets. My endorsement is not to sell at any price.

NEW CITY HALL

Sir,—In connection with the by-law for the sale of the "City Hall Property" which will either be approved or rejected by the voters on May 1, there are a number of points which should be elucidated if an intelligent vote is expected.

1. Has the City Council established a set-back building line on the southerly portion of the property so that this building line will be in conformity with that on the opposite side of Douglas Street?

2. Has the City Council made provisions to move the existing comfort station on Lot 1251, or to provide a new comfort station to replace this essential one?

3. It is reported that the site of the new city hall will be chosen by the people by voting on alternative sites recommended by the Town Planning Commission.

A suggestion that has considerable merit has been made proposing that a new addition to the City Hall be made on Lot 1251, at the rear of the present building, and that later the existing City Hall be demolished and the new one completed.

Should this proposal be recommended by the Town Planning Commission, and approved by the vote of the people, what would be the cost of repurchasing the property which the City Council are so anxious to dispose of at the present time?

4. Who are the clients for whom the purchasers of the property are acting?

Bill, the Broad Street barber, almost wept when he sat down to compute his income tax. "Cheer up," the boss remarked. "Just imagine if we got as much Government as we paid for" . . . The sin of omission will be found in many an income tax return . . . A reformer is a man who thinks he sees his duty, then overdoes it . . . Along with everything else, many a youth discovered the facilities for getting into trouble have improved . . . According to the Canadian Institute of Public Opinion, principal worries of Canadians are: Money, 22 per cent; ill health, 18 per cent; fear of another war, 15 per cent; fear of future business conditions, 14 per cent; old age insecurity, 14 per cent, and fear of unemployment, 12 per cent . . . From the Christian Science Monitor: "A price spiral is a poor foundation for profits that aspire to dizzy heights. The heights, in fact, may be less dizzy than the slide down" . . . Sympathy of the world is focused upon Britons for their sufferings caused by the worst Winter and Spring weather on record. To add to their hardships, they have a Socialist Government that appears to be rapidly making them mere cogs in a vast state machine. More than one observer of political events has noted that British prestige waned under Attlee, who is not a dominant figure like Churchill . . . Farmers dislike daylight saving time because heavy dew on the fields prevents normal work before the sun dries up some of the moisture. Many parents have always registered opposition to tampering with the clock because the extra hour of daylight creates difficulties in getting young children to bed . . . Despite use of a new and powerful weed killer on the Legislative Buildings lawns last year, the crop of dandelions this year was bigger and better than ever. It makes a person wonder if weed-killing compounds are overrated.

Victoria in Beard and Crinoline

From Files of The British Colonist for April, 1860

By G. E. MORTIMORE

Newspapermen of last century were a hardy crew. They had to be. They endured not only danger of life and limb, but also discomfort, which was much worse. The British Colonist, for instance, had this complaint to make about the thin deal their reporters received from the people's representatives:

"The situation of reporters in the House of Assembly is very uncomfortable. The weather for the past few days has been very cold, and the reporters' table is situated so far from the fire that at times their fingers become numbed, and they are compelled to drop their pens and cease writing.

"Added to this, it is almost impossible to report correctly the proceeding, owing to the fact that the table is too remote from the speakers. Do, Messrs. Legislators, have some compassion upon suffering humanity, and give the reporters a chance occasionally to 'toast their shins' inside the bar."

The occupational hazards of being an editor were illustrated by this short yarn with an anti-climax:

"Scene in a Sanctum—Enter a large strong man with a cow-hide.

"'Is the editor in?'

"'Yes.'

"'You?'

"'Yes.'

"'Well (editor draws a revolver) go ahead.'

"'I have taken your paper a year.'

"'Well!' (capping the pistol).

"'An article in your last week's issue (editor cocks the pistol) convinced me that you need—'

"'I deny your right to give it—therefore, please be cautious, sir.'

"'Give you what?'

"'A thrashing!'

"'Why, no, my dear sir, I come to pay my subscription in advance.'

"Of course no further disturbance was necessary."

Even the freedom of a newspaper to be "agin' the government" was menaced in those tough days. "We cannot allow the present period to pass without adverting to an occurrence that took place here a year ago," said The Colonist, and continued dramatically:

"Never before was there a bolder attempt to revive the usages of the Star Chamber, than was made here by the exalted person representing Her Majesty . . . A proclamation was signed, ostensibly to enforce obsolete British statutes, but actually to suppress The British Colonist. 'This extraordinary ukase was heralded to the world on April 1, by hanging it up on the lower fort gate. 'Many actually supposed that some wag had concoted it to make April fools of the towns-folk. Before night, however, it became known that Governor Douglas was its real author, and instead of mirth he aimed at terror. An intense feeling of indignation was aroused. Next morning The British Colonist did not appear. But Britons never will be slaves; for ere the day had drawn to a close, whilst the conspirators against liberty were congratulating themselves on the suppresion of a small newspaper, whose only strength lay in the unvarnished truths it told of an unscrupulous oligarchy, the people resolved to maintain a free press. They met and voted to subscribe the bonds for £800 sterling to enable The Colonist to lay still barer the rascality that was done under the sceptre of Gov Douglas."

"The Colonist has virtually emancipated the press on Vancouver Island. The newspapers started under government patronage—such as the New Westminster Times and the Victoria Gazette—have never given bonds. They were government pets. The former now vegetates on the banks of the Fraser River; and the bogus Gazette now ekes out a miserable existence, without character or influence, while The Colonist, in the face of every opposition, stands forth pre-eminent, the only British newspaper of character and influence on the Pacific Coast."

Marshall Back, Now Drafting Dual Reports

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP). — Secretary of State Marshall flew home from Moscow today and took off almost immediately for a quiet Carolina resort to draft important reports to Congress and the nation on the Russian-American impasse.

He was welcomed here by President Truman.

These reports are expected to bear heavily on relations with Russia, and with the attitudes made clear at the Moscow meeting, which ended largely in disagreement.

Marshall's report to the country will be broadcast from 8:30 to 9 p.m. (Eastern standard time) Monday, 24 hours after a private report to the President and congressmen at the White House tomorrow night.

By this unusual procedure, Mr. Truman apparently seeks to bolster the bi-partisan foreign policy. He has called in Republicans with Democrats before for policy discussions, but not before going over the ground with his advisers himself beforehand.

In response to the President's greeting Marshall said that he and other members of the delegation "tried to do our best not only in the interest of the United States but for the world."

Caught a Car; Can't Let Go

NORTH VANCOUVER, B.C., April 26 (CP).—J. E. Ingram does not know what to do with a street car he bought two weeks ago and would like to unload it.

He considered turning it into a highway lunch wagon, but zoning officials ruled that out.

"They tell me I can't put it here, I can't put it there, I can't put it anywhere," he said today.

Letters to Editor

THE HUMAN VOICE

Sir,—Your editorial on "The Human Voice" in your issue of April 20 was most interesting. You write: "The wonder is that humanity has made so comparatively slight a study of a factor which has so much to do with every form of human relations."

I, too, have been wondering for many years why the speaking voice is regarded as a natural gift that needs no development. Modern inventions are revealing how shockingly speech and voice have been neglected. All types of speakers are heard over the radio who have very evidently had no instruction at all.

Musical standards are much higher than those of speech, yet good speech and cultivated voice are the hall-marks of really good education. Of course many people speak well and many have pleasantly modulated voices. Such need no instruction unless they are anxious to become distinguished in one of the speaking professions.

You write also, in referring to the voice: "Elocution, of course, accepts what there is, and attempts to build on that." Forgive me if I contradict this statement. You refer to that caricature of a great art which masquerades under the name of elocution, and which all artistic people detest and fight shy of. A proper training in the speech arts—true elocution — includes: Correct voice use, so that the voice develops beauty and strength; right use of the speech organs, good vowels, clear articulation, correct pronunciation; intelligent use of words, high-lighting those that are important and avoiding stress on the unimportant, e.g., and, of, the, etc., and avoidance of meaningless gesticulation.

Bad elocution buries natural gifts under the rubbish heaps of artificiality and affectation. Good elocution develops them, so that they can be used to the best advantage.

River Ice Wrecks Warsaw Bridge

A temporary span crossing the Vistula River in Warsaw, Poland, is pictured here as heavy floes of river ice buffeted against the wooden piling supporting the main span, causing the bridge to collapse. The bridge starts to give way (top), then drops into the roaring torrent (below) to be completely swept away by the unleashed fury of the flood waters.

Czecho-Hungarian Trade Pact Hints at Balkan Federation

LONDON, April 26 (Reuters).—The Czecho-Slovak-Bulgarian trade agreement just signed in Sofia is the latest of a series of bilateral trade negotiations which have aroused speculation about the possibility of a Balkan economic federation as an answer to the refusal of the United States to give aid to Yugoslavia as she proposes to do to Greece and Turkey.

Such a federation, it is believed, would combine the pro-Soviet governments of Southeast Europe against what they regard as an anti-Soviet economic campaign on the part of the United States.

A trade agreement was concluded Friday between Czecho-Slovakia and the Russian zone of Germany, establishing import and export quotas under which Czecho-Slovakia will deliver belts, rubber articles and magnesium in return for gas, purifying materials, optical glass and other goods.

A report from Budapest said a Hungarian trade delegation will visit Moscow early this coming week headed by Commerce Minister Sandor Ronai to discuss revision of an existing agreement.

Bulgaria and Czecho-Slovakia have a four-year agreement particularly aimed at helping Bulgarians plan for electrification and development of industry, and a Polish trade delegation now is in Prague negotiating for equipment needed for Poland's reconstruction.

Commercial talks between Hungary and Yugoslavia are under way in Warsaw, and a Polish delegation has arrived in Bucharest to negotiate an oil agreement with Romania.

Early this month Bulgaria and Yugoslavia signed a short-term agreement for the exchange of nearly $4,000,000 worth of goods.

Despite the fast-growing network of economic ties in Eastern Europe, however, it is believed in many quarters that any economic autarchy to the exclusion of Western influence is unlikely since all countries have been eager to develop simultaneously trade relations with countries outside the Russian sphere, and in the case of Hungary and Poland, to obtain United States loans.

King, Queen Mark 24th Anniversary

ABOARD H.M.S. VANGUARD, April 26 (Reuters).—King George and Queen Elizabeth, now returning from their tour of South Africa, were celebrating their 24th wedding anniversary at sea today, second day of their voyage home.

The Vanguard has carried the Royal Family 6,400 miles since they left England February 1.

Rich Scottish Marquess Dies

LONDON, April 26 (AP).—John Crichton-Stuart, fourth Marquess of Bute, who held a dozen titles, had as many castles, some 12,000 acres and reputed $240,000,000 fortune, is dead at 65.

Death for the kilt-wearing multi-millionaire, who was not only one of the richest men in the world but the only British peer to enlist as a private in the Great War, came last night after a long illness.

He died at Mountstuart House, his secluded ancestral home in Rothesay, Scotland, famous for its fabulous Oriental, Arab and Roman rooms and elaborate baths of 60 types of marble.

His successor to the title of marquess and to his riches—after heavy "death duties" have been extracted—is his eldest son, John, 93, Earl of Dumfries, Governor of the Scottish island of Bute.

The family millions came mostly from coal fields developed by the late marquess' grandfather and from 19th century investment which transformed a fishing village into Wales' leading city of Cardiff.

The marquess, a small, shy man, once owned half the property in Cardiff. He disposed of his holdings there in 1938 for £20,000,000. Until the mines were nationalized at the start of this year, his coal royalties brought him £117,000 annually.

His most pretentious castle, Cardiff, has gold-plated staircases.

New Weather Forecast Plan Lets Citizen Do Own Doping

WASHINGTON, April 26 (NANA)—A revolutionary change in weather forecasting that will give actual "pictures" instead of word predictions of weather is being developed by the United States Weather Bureau.

The forecasting will be done by means of photocasts similar to a facsimile process, according to of-one weather station to another.

Ivan R. Tannehill, chief weather forecaster, believes the new picture process will be a great boon to the man on the street and, at the same time, give the answer to those people who keep "griping" that the weatherman is always wrong.

"We are still struggling with words now in predicting weather," Tannehill said. "But, in the future, when we get the mechanical bugs eliminated, we will give John Q Citizen a 'picture' and let him dope out his own weather."

The coming development, according to Tannehill, should eliminate all chance for human error. Weather will be pictured on a screen or impression with all necessary detail. The man viewing the picture can draw his own conclusions.

Now, the forecaster pointed out, it is still necessary to transmit words. Coded signals are flashed from one part of the country to another. The local weatherman must transcribe these signals and use his own judgment in interpreting them.

"It's this interpreting that sometimes causes havoc with our forecasts. That's where the chance for human error is greatest," he said.

Tannehill, however, admits he is getting fed up with people griping against the weatherman. Currently, he said, there seemed to be a campaign in some cities to pick on the forecaster for every sudden quirk in the weather.

"What people don't seem to realize is that we've had a good bit of suddenly changeable weather this year, and we haven't yet developed anything in meteorology like a machine that would grind out weather forecasts automatically," he said.

Progress in weather forecasting is still a very slow proposition, Tannehill pointed out. A considerable number of wartime-developed instruments are now in use, and through them there has been some improvement in short-range forecasting.

Helping out in this regard are such new developments as radar great boon to the weatherman in spotting coming storms and in keeping tab on wind currents above the clouds, where weather forecasting previously had been blind.

"But even with these new instruments it is still necessary for someone to transcribe their measurements and to interpret what they say. When we get away from this 'human' element, as we expect to with photocasts, we will really be getting somewhere," Tannehill said.

HISTORIC MEDICAL HIGHLIGHTS—No. 1

JUPITER AND THE SYMBOL
The origin of that familiar drug store symbol goes back 3,000 years when physicians of ancient Rome would invoke Jupiter's aid by placing the "Jupiter sign" on their prescriptions. This sign looked roughly like a numeral four, and is distinguishable in the modern pharmacy symbol coupled with an "R", standing for the Latin word recipio. This means "I take"—or, more to the point, the modern word "recipe." The latter word is accurately descriptive, for that is what your doctor does when he writes a prescription.
Painstaking, scientific accuracy has supplanted appealing to Jupiter. Our modern methods of compounding prescriptions leave nothing to chance . . . every detail is up to rigid, high standards.

Mrs. Gordon A. Cameron, Pictured With Her Wire-Haired Terrier, Mandy, in the Lovely Grounds of Her Home, "Lochiel," Runnymede Drive, Will Entertain at Two Large Late Afternoon Parties This Week, the First on Tuesday, April 29, and the Second, Friday, May 2.

Marnie Johns Radiant Bride In Lace and Taffeta Gown

Metropolitan United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding last evening when Marnie Lillian, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johns, 2690 Topp Avenue, and William Douglas Leggatt, only son of Commander and Mrs. W. H. Leggatt, 2001 Beach Drive, exchanged nuptial vows in the presence of Rev. Dr. W. J. Sipprell, who read the service, assisted by Rev. Dr. A. E. Whitehouse.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a gown of white lace over taffeta, styled with dropped-shoulder neck edged with a deep ruffle, fitted bodice, and full skirt pleated over the hips and finished with a bustle-effect in the back from which extended a long train. Her veil of illusion net worn covering her face as she entered, was embroidered with silver thread, the coronet of cut beads being caught at the temples with the orange blossoms used by the bride's mother at her wedding. She wore long lace mitts, a single strand of pearls, the gift of the groom, and pearl ear rings. Completing her ensemble she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses showered with lilies of the valley and white heather.

The four attendants provided a charming color note, their American Beauty moire taffeta gowns styled on Elizabethean lines, were worn with small flat hats of ruffled moire, finished with wide delft blue velvet bows at the side and long streamers. The maid of honor, was Miss Margaret Calvert, a fellow-graduate of the bride's Class of '46, Royal Jubilee Hospital; Miss Margaret Loudoun and Miss Peggy Sparks were the bridesmaids. All carried Colonial bouquets en tone tied with blue ribbon. Little Linda Johns, cousin of the bride, as flower girl, wore an identical moire taffeta frock with bandeau of flowers in her hair and carried a small basket of forget-me-nots.

The bridegroom had Mr. Reay Johns, brother of the bride as his best man, and the ushers were Mr. Chigno Bostock, Mr. Alan Wright, Mr. Don Woodhouse and Mr. Arnie Walker.

The reception was held in the lower lounge of the Empress Hotel, the bride's mother wearing honey-beige fashioned with lace bodice over pink net and crepe skirt, with pink accessories, and corsage of rosebuds, and the groom's mother gowned in aqua crepe with rose accessories with corsage of roses, assisted the young couple in receiving. Mr. H. B. McLean proposed the health of his niece.

For a motor trip down the Pacific Coast, the bride traveled in a pearl-grey gabardine three-piece suit, with black accessories and a green orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Leggatt will make their home in Victoria.

Marriage Performed By Bride's Cousin

St. Columbia's Church, Strawberry Vale, was the scene of a pretty wedding at 2 o'clock on Saturday, when the Honorable Rev. T. R. Heneage, of Vancouver, cousin of the bride, officiated at the marriage of Margaret Joan Stathem, elder daughter of Mrs. M. R. Knowles, Granville Road, Saanich, and the late Mr. H. H. Stathem, to Andrew Kenneth Ogden, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ogden, 51 Erie St., Victoria. Mr. Maurice Foster played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Hugh Stathem, the bride was becomingly gowned in white satin with floor-length net skirt, sweetheart neckline and long pointed sleeves. Her floor-length embroidered net veil was held by a coronet of lace and she carried an arm bouquet of lilies, bridal wreath and bluebells. Mrs. S. Langley attended as matron of honor wearing a blue net dress and shoulder veil which fell from a wreath of flowers, and she carried a bouquet of bridal wreath, bluebells and lilies. Mr. Vern Pollard was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception for relatives was held at the home of the bride's mother.

For a honeymoon on the Mainland the bride chose a powder blue dress, grey coat and white accessories. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Ogden will make their home in Victoria.

Mrs. E. C. Mesher and Mrs. G. Holmes entertained at the home of the latter, 80 Dallas Road, in honor of Miss Octavie Dunand, a bride-elect. The guest of honor was presented with a hyacinth corsage while her mother, Mrs. S. Dunand, received a corsage of carnations and heather. The gifts were presented in a decorated box. Guests were: Mrs. G. Tran, Mrs. R. M. Watson, Mrs. A. Westren, Mrs. E. Dash, Mrs. S. Taylor, Mrs. D. Danes, Mrs. A. Dickie, Mrs. M. Filliam, Mrs. J. Veach, Mrs. Fred Sanders, Mrs. C. Sandbeig, Mrs. J. Shillers, Misses M. Karpenie, Joan Johnson, Marcia Westren, Mildred Dewra and H. Henderson.

Couple to Live In Vancouver

A pretty wedding performed on Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock, Stella Billie, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Harris, 57 Howe Street, became the bride of Frank John Litras, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Litras, of Vancouver. Rev. Walter Ross officiated.

The lovely dark-haired bride wore a smart pearl grey suit with white accessories and a corsage of gardenias and lily of the valley. Her only ornament was a three-strand pearl necklace with diamond clasp, a gift of the groom's father.

Mrs. A. Manis, sister of the groom, was the only attendant, in a navy blue and white outfit with a corsage of roses and lily of the valley. Mr. Nick Gungulis, of Vancouver, was best man.

At a reception following the ceremony, a three-tiered wedding cake centred the lace-covered table, lighted by tall white tapers and roses. Mr. George Doulis proposed the toast to the bride.

For a honeymoon trip by plane to different parts of the United States, the bride traveled in a white wool coat with grey accessories and gardenia corsage. Upon their return a reception will be held in the young couple's honor at the Commodore, Vancouver. Mr. and Mrs. Litras will make their home in Vancouver.

Isabel Greenhead Weds Naval Man

St. Matthias' Church was the scene of a pretty wedding yesterday afternoon when Grace Isabel Greenhead, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Greenhead, of Toronto, was united in marriage with Lieut. Edwin Thomas William Bayliss, R.C.N. (R), son of Mr. J. E. Bayliss, of Victoria, and the late Mrs. Bayliss, at a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. K. Sandercock.

The church was decorated with masses of Spring flowers and during the signing of the register Miss Mary Armitage sang, "O Perfect Love."

The bride, given in marriage by Cmdr. P. D. Budge, R.C.N., was lovely in a gown of white crepe, fashioned with yoke of nylon sheer. Her long veil fell from a Mary Stuart headdress and she carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Miss Valerie Addie was bridesmaid and wore a pale blue moire dress. Her chapel veil was held by a coronet of blue velvet and she carried a Colonial bouquet of yellow roses.

Lieut. H. R. Tilley, R.C.N., was best man and Lt.-Cmdr. G. DeWolfe, R.C.N. (R) and Lieut. Hoyle, R.C.N. (R) acted as ushers.

At a reception held at Cherry Bank Hotel after the ceremony Mrs. P. D. Budge and Miss A. J. Bayliss, aunt of the groom, poured tea and Misses Muriel Roberts, Iris Lind, quist, Joyce Maxwell and Betty McAdie assisted in serving. The three-tiered wedding cake was cut with a naval sword.

Leaving for a honeymoon at an unannounced destination the bride wore a pink wool ensemble with brown accessories. Lieut. and Mrs. Bayliss will reside in Victoria.

An Urban Beauty Spot

Located within five minutes' walking distance of Victoria's business district, the grounds surrounding McCall Brothers' Floral Funeral Chapel present a vision of loveliness to the public eye. These gardens have been the pride and joy of Mr. D. M. McCall for many years, and his deep personal interest in the planning of the miniature sunken garden, the floral walks and driveways is much in evidence. Walks and driveways are bordered with a carpet of cream and crimson tulips, while the background is a profusion of wallflowers in alternating colors of gold and red.

A flagged stairway leads into the miniature sunken garden, where the mass of color greets the eye. Gold dust alyssum, aubrietia, polyanthus and primrose, saxifraga, arabis, nepeta and pinks combine their wide variety of colors in an aura of beauty, while clumps of Monterey Cypress and heather lend a more conservative note. An Old World touch is added with a sundial amidst this profusion of loveliness.

Well-Known Couple Married At Christ Church Cathedral

A wedding of wide interest took place yesterday afternoon, the principals being Elizabeth M. Allan, a member of the Provincial Public Health Laboratories staff, Vancouver for several years, and Dr. Joseph A. Pearce, director of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory.

White lilac, bridal wreath and other Spring blooms were used to decorate Christ Church Cathedral where the ceremony was performed by Dean Spencer H. Elliott. The church organist, Mr. Thomas Jenkins, played the traditional wedding music.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Allen, 29 Piddon Avenue, was given in marriage by her father. A light beige dressmaker suit, an original Victor Mott model, was chosen by the bride. A brown off-the-face model hat, brown accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses completed her smart ensemble.

Mrs. Kendall Mercer, who came from Vancouver to be her sister's matron of honor, chose a dusty pink gabardine suit with wide-brimmed matching felt hat, brown accessories and corsage of gardenias.

Dr. Pearce, who is the son of Mrs. J. W. Pearce, of Mitchell, Ont., and the late Mr. Pearce, had as his best man, Mr. Gerald Wilbur, of Duncan, B.C. Mr. Oliver Prentice and Mr. Dick Phillips acted as ushers.

A reception for relatives and close friends was held at the home of the [illegible] where pink carnations and snapdragons were used to decorate the rooms. Mrs. Allan, wearing a rose ensemble with corsage of carnations assisted in receiving the guests. Mr. M. J. Little proposed the toast to the bride. A bouquet of white heather topped the three-tiered wedding cake which centred the bride's table.

For a honeymoon Up-Island the bride donned a dark brown Victor Mott model coat and Kolinsky fur neckpiece over her wedding ensemble. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Pearce will reside at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory at Royal Oak.

Mrs. Alfred B. Shorney, the former Miss Dorothy Boyden, will arrive very shortly from Leicestershire, Eng., to visit her mother and sister, Mrs. F. Boyden and Miss Sylvia Boyden, 1576 Yale Street. Mrs. Shorney sailed from Liverpool on the freighter Carinia, and will visit another sister, Mrs. E. T. Squire, in Vancouver before coming to Victoria to spend several months. Her husband, Mrs. A. B. Shorney, Mac.M.Sc., lecturer at Loughborough, and her two children, Sylvia and David, who attend Nottingham and Westminster universities are remaining in England.

Other guests will be members of the Victoria women's executive of the association. Mrs. R. D. Harvey will assist Mrs. Anscomb in receiving guests. Mrs. C. H. Smith has been invited to preside at the tea table with Misses Ilace Roskelley, Bette Mitchell and Pat McAllister, members of the Young Conservative Association, assisting as serviteurs.

Hazel Duval Wed At St. John's

At St. John's Church on Thursday evening Hazel Ruth, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Duval exchanged nuptial vows with Fawatt Tyler, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. H. Tyler, with Rev. F. Comley officiating.

The bride chose a hunter's green ensemble with smart gold straw hat, trimmed with matching green and a corsage of Talisman roses and gardenias completed her outfit. Mrs. Keith Rankin, wearing a dress-maker suit of Cossack brown with hat and accessories to match, attended her cousin. Her corsage was of pink rosebuds and heather. Mr. Stephen Tyler supported his brother.

During the signing of the register Mrs. Florence Noel sang "Because."

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Rankin, 1440 Craigflower Road. The young couple assisted by the bride's mother, and Mrs. W. P. Rankin, received the guests before the fireplace, banked with narcissi, tulips, bridal wreath and greenery. Mr. Rankin proposed the toast to his niece.

Mr. and Mrs. Tyler left for a honeymoon on the Mainland, the bride traveling in a matching three-quarter-length coat over her wedding ensemble with British tan accessories. Upon their return the young couple will make their home at Royal Oak.

Decorated Tables Display Special Attraction of Spring Garden Week

The annual Decorated Tables Display, sponsored by the Jubilee Hospital Junior Auxiliary, which was started several years ago as a leisure attraction of Victoria's Spring Garden Week, will be held at the Empress Hotel on Wednesday afternoon and evening, May 7. This event, which has grown in popularity, is one attractive means of bringing the citizens of Victoria together, and also provides a great scope for the artistic talents of the public.

There are several interesting classes, such as 18" formal dinner or luncheon tables, informal breakfast and luncheon, breakfast or luncheon tray tables set for dessert only and special-occasion tables which provide a medium for a great deal of originality and novel arrangement. There are tea and coffee-table classes and, in addition to the tables themselves, there are classes for actual floral displays in which the exhibitors may use their own containers, these being set against a green screen. On pedestals, too, flowers in larger containers will be seen with charming effect.

Miss Alice Pooley, who for several years has provided an interesting contest, will again this year arrange a large tray of mixed flowers, the public being asked to guess the number of different varieties used for this a prize will be given. Miss Kathleen Agnew will present the popular "Guessing Bowl" contest on Wednesday afternoon, the opening to commence promptly at 2 p.m. and the judging at 9 p.m. and the judges here will be Mrs. Kenneth Barr, Mrs. J. S. Perry and Mrs. R. H. Edgell.

A cordial invitation is extended to the general public to attend the exhibition and anyone wishing to enter tables or floral displays is asked to telephone the committee—Mrs. Lawrence Green, Mrs. T. W. Walker, Mrs. Matthew Hedley, Mrs. H. B. Horne, Mrs. A. H. Nash or Mrs. R. A. Wootton.

Mrs. Conway Patteril and Mrs. W. B. Wilson are general convenors of the display. It is announced that a specially attractive of this year's show will be the display of miniature gardens, cleverly designed by Mrs. Lyons, Queenswood Drive.

Societies

Ministering Circle of the King's Daughters will meet in the rooms on Friday at 2:30 p.m.

Canadian Daughters' League will meet in the K of P. Hall, Cormorant Street on Thursday at 8 p.m.

St. Saviour's Altar Guild will hold a sugar donation tea at the home of Mrs. S. Ford, 1165 Courtney Street, on Wednesday at 2:30 p.m.

There will be a dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club on Monday at 6:15 p.m. in the new clubrooms, 1012 Douglas Street. During the evening, educational films will be shown through the courtesy of the National Film Board.

The Ex-B.C. Telephone operators will hold their monthly tea in David Spencer's dining-room on Monday at 2:30 p.m. Final arrangements will be made for the Vancouver banquet of the Ex-Telephone Operators' Club.

Joan Thompson Bride Of Ralph Johnston

The marriage was solemnized on Friday evening by Ven. Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns in St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, uniting Joan Margaret, only daughter of Mrs. N. D. Thompson, St. Patrick Street, and the late Captain Philip S. Thompson, and J. Ralph Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Johnston, Invermere, B.C.

The bride, given away by her uncle, Mr. Cecil S. Clarke, wore a floor-length gown of white satin. Her fine net veil, fastened by a frond for the occasion, was arranged over a coronet of orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a pearl necklace, the groom's gift. She carried an all-white arm bouquet of carnations, gardenias, stocks and lilies of the valley. The maids of honour were Miss Isabel Jewell, wearing turquoise sheer nylon over taffeta, with an accompanying floral headpiece, and carnations; and Miss Vicki McGeachie in yellow nylon over taffeta with a bouquet of mauve stocks and yellow carnations. They were Juliet caps of shirred nylon to match their gowns trimmed with a cluster of self-flowers, and wore long gloves.

Mr. Ian McQueen was the best man, and ushering were Mr. Geoffrey Bodman, cousin of the bride, and Mr. George Rossington. After a small reception at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel at which relatives and immediate friends of the bride and groom were present, the young couple left for a honeymoon Ucluelet. The bride travelled in a fuchsia printed silk dress with brown hat and accessories and a fur coat. Mr. and Mrs. Johnston will make their home in Victoria.

Weddings

RICKETTS—JONES

The marriage of Margaret Gillespie Jones, third daughter of Mrs. David Jones, North Wales, and the late Mr. Jones, to Ralph Reginald Ricketts, only son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Ricketts, North Vancouver, was solemnized at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. Dr. A. E. Whitehorn, on Saturday evening. Mr. W. A. Evans gave his niece in marriage. The bride chose a brown tailored suit with rabbit trimmed with gold sequins, gold accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. W. Dempster was matron of honour and wore a blue tailored suit with gold accessories and a corsage of red roses. Mr. W. Dempster supported the groom. Spring flowers decorated the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Stuart, 365 Arnold Avenue, where the reception was held. Mrs. Stuart, assisted the couple in receiving. The three-tiered cake, centering the lace-covered table, was cut by the groom. Mr. C. J. Stuart proposed the toast. Mr. and Mrs. Ricketts will reside at 1251 Bluff Road.

ATKIN—DREW

At St. John's Church last evening Rev. George Biddle officiated at the marriage of Iris Mary Drew, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Drew, 1218 McKenzie Street, formerly of Calgary, to Charles Robert Atkin, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Atkin, 111 Cameron Street. The bridge, given away by her father, was lovely in a white lace gown with lace insets in the full skirt, lily point sleeves and sweetheart neckline. Her full-length veil was under a coronet of orange blossoms, and she wore a double strand of pearls, the gift of the groom. A bouquet of red roses, white carnations and lily of the valley completed her ensemble. Her attendants were Mrs. A. Veilleux, matron of honour, in blue taffeta with yellow and mauve flower hat and shoulder veil, and

Joan Margaret's Old Girls' Reunion

St. Margaret's Old Girls' Association will hold its annual reunion on Saturday, May 3, at St. Margaret's School. It is hoped that all former pupils of the school will accept the invitation to be present and it is expected that there will be a large number of guests from Vancouver.

Luncheon will be served at the school at 1:15 p.m. and in the afternoon there will be a basketball match "old girls" versus present pupils, following which tea will be served for "old girls" and their children and a number of whom are now attending the school.

Miss Helen Duignan, the president, will preside at the annual meeting which will be held after luncheon and members of the matriculation class will be the special guests of the day.

Reservations for luncheon should be made by telephoning the secretary, Miss Prescott, Price, E 9374 as soon as possible.

Celebrates 80th Birthday

MRS. F. Welch, 627 Hillside Avenue, was honored at a surprise party by over fifty friends on the occasion of her 80th birthday last Saturday. Many lovely gifts and flowers were presented to Mrs. Welsh who also received congratulations and best wishes from many persons out of town. Mrs. Welsh as a widow with 3 young family, came to Victoria 42 years ago from Jersey, Channel Isles, and has resided here ever since. She is residing at her Hillside Avenue home with a son, Fred, and two daughters, Mrs. A. Pyche and Mrs. A. Dayton. Her eldest son, Reginald came from Seattle for his mother's birthday.

English... Exquisite and Very NEW!
The new suits and coats which have just reached us from England will delight the heart of every style and quality-conscious woman. Of course all the most approved motifs of the season are cleverly featured and there are also many of the more conservative models. Such names as Jaeger, Chester Borrie, Horella and Renaor are indicative of unusual distinction and they are shown in the loveliest weaves in wool bouclés, bird's-eye tweeds, shetlands, worsteds camel hairs and mohairs. Among the newest things are dress-fitted coats in black boucle with silk binding on lapels and pockets and two buttons at the waist, fitted mohair Coachmen coats with large pockets and belted back, suits with jaunty jackets and such lovely tartans as McLeen of Duart, of which the accompanying illustration is an exact representation.

This Week's Radio

A new arrival at CJVI is Rowland "Bob" Hill from the interior city of Kamloops.

BOB HILL

Bob started his radio career in Sudbury, Ont., through a quiz show. The manager of the local station gave him an audition after the performance then hired him as an announcer.

After service with the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals in North Africa, Sicily, Italy, England, France, Holland, Germany and Northwest Europe, he returned to Canada in 1945.

Moving out West after discharge, he was hired by CFJC, Kamloops, and recently arrived in Victoria to work for CJVI as an announcer-operator.

An original member of the "Happy Gang," Kathleen Stokes, has been playing the organ and contributing to the general merriment of the popular morning show since June 1937.

KATHLEEN STOKES

Before that Kay was a well-known pianist and theatre organist in Toronto. She is heard with Bert Pearl and the rest of the gang each Weekday morning at 10:15 over the trans-Canada network.

A new venture in Canadian music will be brought to the attention of C.B.C. listeners during the next five weeks in a series of five weekly broadcasts on the trans-Canada network by the Toronto Conservatory School of the Opera.

The programs, beginning today, will be heard at 7:30 p.m. with a half-hour broadcast of excerpts from the Smetana opera "The Bartered Bride."

All five broadcast productions will be under the direction of Nicholas Goldschmidt, conductor of the Opera School. Performing under him will be the school's solo principals, a chorus of 32 voices and a 24-piece orchestra.

"The Bartered Bride" selections will be sung in English. Principals will be Mary Morrison, soprano, in the role of Marie; Ronald Stewart, tenor, as Hans, her lover; Robert Doree, bass, as Krushina, her father; Louise Roy, dramatic soprano, as Katinka, the mother, and Andrew MacMillan, baritone, as the marriage broker, Kezul.

The Toronto Conservatory School of the Opera, first of its kind in Canada, plans to provide musical training, previously only obtainable in Europe or the United States, and to develop and promote a permanent operatic company.

"An Evening With Romberg," starring composer-conductor Sigmund Romberg and a 58-piece orchestra starts a 13-week series in the "Red Skelton" time spot over N.B.C. Tuesday, June 10. This will be the third season that Romberg has taken over for Red Skelton during the Summer.

Music on the program will include much of the composer's own works, as well as those of contemporary composers. Two vocalists are yet to be chosen for the show.

After three months with the Byrd expedition in Little America, radio reporter Bob Reuben is back in New York. Some of his most vivid memories of the expedition were: Eating 14-year-old butter and apples that had been left over from Byrd's first exploration trip and living in the only navy station in the world where a sailor took his shore leave by going aboard his ship.

The penguins, according to Reuben, are just as friendly and cute as they're reputed to be. One baby penguin used to come and watch with great interest the sailors playing their daily game of football.

One particular difficulty was in walking across the snow on a grey day. Since the sun was hidden behind a mist, there were no shadows on the snow and consequently no way of telling where the terrain was flat, or where it wasn't. Rueben kept walking into hills.

One of the strangest things about the expedition, Rueben says, was the absence of germs in the Antarctic. Only one man on the Mount Olympus came down with a cold while the ship was in Little America.

Short Week Starts At City Hall May 3

FOLLOWING the popular trend, City Hall employees will commence working a five-day week next Saturday and the City Hall will remain closed from Friday afternoon until Monday morning.

To compensate for the shorter work week, hours at the City Hall have been lengthened. Starting Monday, May 5, the hall will open ... usual 9 a.m.

Victoria is the last of the four municipalities in Greater Victoria to adopt the shorter week. The move to the five-day week was first made by Oak Bay and was copied by Saanich and Esquimalt on April 1.

World Unsettled

MONTREAL, April 26.—Recognition of unsettled world economic conditions and of the desirability of a conservative approach to new investment of shareholders' money abroad at this time was expressed by Edward K. Davis, president, in addressing Aluminium, Ltd., shareholders at the annual meeting.

"In an increasing number of regions, ideological conflicts between the merits of private capital and individual enterprise, compared with publicly-owned and bureaucratically managed state industries, have brought about a situation in which uncertainty has replaced confidence on the part of private enterprise, and apathy on the part of the inhabitants of those regions has replaced industry and the will to be self-supporting and survive," he said.

Mayor Urges Festivals Receive Encouragement

"A most interesting week, and one that has been stimulated to a degree," was the opinion given by Roth Gordon, of Vancouver, at the conclusion of the honor performance which ended the Seventh Greater Victoria School Drama Festival last night.

Presented at the Victoria High School, three plays chosen from those presented during the past week were repeated before a large and thusiastic audience.

Introduced by Miss Olive Heritage, general chairman of the Festival Committee, Mayor Percy E. George paid warm tribute to the late Dr. S. W. Willis, whose passing this week has saddened the community as a whole, and also to Major L. Bullock-Webster former director of School and Community Drama.

He stated that the present enviable reputation of the educational set-up of British Columbia was due in no small measure to the tireless efforts and keen interest shown by these two men. At the suggestion of Miss Heritage the audience stood in silent tribute to Dr. Willis, who was to have been present last evening.

Stressing the value of drama in the youth program of the community, Mayor George said he felt that every encouragement should be given to the holding of such festivals as are held yearly in British Columbia, and said that the teachers and others who had given so freely of their time and interest were to be congratulated upon the success they had already attained.

The plays presented were "Nobody Home," by Noel Walters, with a cast from Oaklands School, directed by Miss M. P. Kinnair; "X Equals O: A Night of the Trojan War," by John Drinkwater, presented by Mount View High School, directed by Dr. J. M. Thomas, and "Elizabeth Refuses," presented by Oak Bay High School, directed by Miss K. B. Youdall. The audience was particularly enthusiastic about this last play, and all the plays were much enjoyed.

Before presenting Mayor George, Miss Heritage introduced the members of the festival committee, and paid warm tribute to the work done by Miss Anne Adamson, who has been the general secretary for the festival, and has been the acting director of school and community drama, between Major Bullock-Webster's retirement and the recent appointment of H. S. Hurn as director. Much of the credit for the most successful drama week is due to Miss Adamson's efficient management of the arrangements.

The Victoria School Band played ...g the intermission.

March Is Star of Academy Winner

A bank executive who loves to jitterbug and have a good time generally is a foremost character in Samuel Goldwyn's new production, "The Best Years of Our Lives." The role is played by Fredric March. His pals, Dana Andrews and Harold Russell, whom he manages to befriend materially in the course of the drama, have contrasting emotional roles.

"The Best Years of Our Lives," which opens tomorrow at the Oak Bay Theatre, not only stars Myrna Loy, March, Andrews, Teresa Wright, Virginia Mayo, but also introduces Cathy O'Donnell in a poignant role.

Less Wheat on Hand

OTTAWA, April 26 (CP).—Stocks of Canadian wheat in store or in transit in North America at midnight Thursday totaled 99,035,866 bushels, compared with 102,833,283 April 10, and 88,606,872 on the corresponding date last year, the Bureau of Statistics reported. Visible supplies comprised 98,808,142 bushels in Canadian positions and 227,724 bushels in United States positions.

Dual Personality Is Text of Story

Dealing with the extraordinary dual personality of a lovely girl who unwittingly brings disaster to the men in her life, R.K.O. Radio's drama, "The Locket," opens tomorrow at the Capitol Theatre and co-stars Laraine Day, Brian Aherne, Robert Michum and Gene Raymond. Hailed as one of the season's most provocative motion pictures, it pulses with suspense and emotion.

Bert Granet produced the unique offering under the executive supervision of Jack J. Gross, and John Brahm directed from the story and screenplay by Sheridan Gibney.

Will Occupy Block At Lake Cowichan

LAKE COWICHAN, April 26. — Six business firms have announced their intention of moving into the new Smith Block here, which is rapidly nearing completion.

Among those moving into the new premises are the branch of the Bank of Toronto, the Overwaitea Company; Charlie Onn, men's wear; J. Anderson, real estate and insurance; Dr. Tait, dentist, and a sporting goods shop.

Opens Performance

MAYOR PERCY GEORGE

The honor performance of the seventh Greater Victoria School Drama Festival was opened last night at Victoria High School by Mayor Percy E. George. He was introduced by Miss Olive Hermitage, chairman. This performance consisted of three contrasting plays selected by the adjudicator from those seen during the week-long festival. Selected plays were "Nobody Home," presented by Oaklands School; "X Equals O: A Night of the Trojan War," put on by pupils from Mount View High School, and "Elizabeth Refuses," with a cast from Oak Bay High School.

On Committee

MRS. M. D. CHRISTIE

City representative on the permanent committee in charge of the recently-acquired juvenile detention home will be Alderman Mrs. Christie. The appointment was made by Mayor Percy E. George under authority conferred at a recent meeting of the City Council. Other representatives on the committee are Miss Rae Kirkendale, superintendent of the Children's Aid Society; Jack McKenzie, a member of the board of Children's Aid Society, and the city juvenile and probation officer, Constable Arthur Rudge.

Sooke Planning Klondike Night

SOOKE, April 26. — "Klondike Night" will be held in Sooke Community Hall here Saturday, May 10, for the purpose of raising funds toward purchase of baseball equipment for the Sooke softball players.

A radio, electric iron and toaster will be offered as prizes and, games and refreshments are planned. Miss Beverly Sheilds will be in charge of the cake-weighing contest.

Conveners will be Mrs. P. G. Gray, James Arden, Charles Crawford, Reginald Piercey, William Gains and Earland Nicholsen.

May Express Views On Road Location

Residents of the Duncan area will be able to make representations on the location of the Island Highway from Duncan north to Ladysmith, Works Minister E. C. Carson reported yesterday.

Surveys have been completed on two routes for relocation of the highway from the south side of Duncan through Chemainus to connect with the highway near Ladysmith.

It is expected a single contract will cover the project and the Works Department probably will not call for tenders for construction of the road this year unless more road construction firms are available.

Famed Musician Writes the Score

In the making of "The Overlanders," which opens tomorrow at the Plaza Theatre, no trick photography was used, and all the actors played in the scenes themselves. This necessitated the cast taking part in some very thrilling and dangerous sequences, and there were one or two minor accidents. "The Overlanders" also makes musical history by bringing the music of one of Britain's most famous composers to the screen for the first time, the grand old man of British music, John Ireland.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP).—In one of the slowest sessions for the past three years, the stock market today emerged from a somewhat spotty week with mild irregularity presiding.

The list rallied selectively in the forepart of the week but subsequently lost ground. Early enthusiasm over wage pacts in the steel and automotive fields eventually chilled when the question arose as to whether widespread pay boosts, combined with mounting pressure for voluntary price reductions, might narrow profit margins and threaten dividends. Doubts regarding taxes, business and foreign affairs remained as handicaps.

Th Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .1 of a point at 61.6 and for the week showed a net advance of .3 after three successive weekly declines. The Saturday gain was due to the presence of a few key stocks in the index. Actually, there were more declines than advances.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, April 26 (AP).—Responding to overnight announcement of April 1 grain stocks, wheat was firm while corn broke more than 3 cents at times today on the Board of Trade. Price changes in oats were not large, but the grain displayed an easier undertone.

Wheat supplies were placed by the Agriculture Department as the lowest in ten years. Some grain men felt that the estimated carryover on July 1 of 100,000,000 bushels, a low carryover, would not be achieved.

VANCOUVER, April 26.—Dominion Securities Corporation Ltd., announced that the company recently placed privately, through a syndicate headed by itself, an issue of $13,806,500 first mortgage and collateral trust sinking fund series "O" 3¼ per cent bonds of Shawinigan Water & Power Company, due April 1, 1972, at $104.37 and accrued interest.

Winnipeg Grain

WINNIPEG, April 26 (CP).—The United Kingdom took 400,000 bushels of Canadian wheat under the agreement in trading on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. In the last week, another 500,000 bushels of wheat in the form of flour have been sold to other than United Kingdom countries.

In the grain futures market, prices showed a firm trend, with a sharp advance in early trading on light offerings and moderate buying by various interests. Trading was quiet in the early stages and there were recessions from extreme gains.

Issue Privately Sold

VANCOUVER, April 26.—According to the British Columbia office of Dominion Securities Corporation Ltd., an issue of $3,500,000 first mortgage and collateral trust sinking fund bonds, Series "F," 3 per cent, of Quebec Power Company, has been privately sold through a syndicate headed by Dominion Securities Corporation Ltd. Purpose of the bonds, which sold at 100 and accrued interest, is to finance to the extent of 75 per cent of their cost or fair value, which ever is less, permanent improvements, extensions and additions to the electric and gas systems of the company already made or now planned.

Prices of Cattle Are Unchanged

OTTAWA, April 26 (CP).—Cattle prices remained unchanged last week, although in many parts of the country improved road conditions brought out heavier deliveries, the Agriculture Department reported today.

Buying competition remained keen, and a run of 6,400 head, the heaviest so far this year, was cleared at Toronto, with weighty steers at $15.75, and butcher steers, $13-$15.25. At Montreal good steers were quoted at $14-$15.25.

At Winnipeg steers sold at $15.25-$15.775; Calgary, $14.25-$15; Edmonton, $14.50-$15; Prince Albert, $14.75; Moose Jaw, $14.50; Saskatoon, $14.50-$15; Regina, $15; and Vancouver, $13-$14.

Exports of dairy cattle totaled 1,827, compared with 1,853 in the corresponding week last year. Exports included 668 head of purebred cattle to China, adding to the shipment of 130 head reported last week. Exports of dairy cattle since January 1, amounted to 13,140, against 13,384 in the corresponding period last year.

Toronto paid $16.50-$17.25 for choice veals; Montreal, $14.50-$15; Winnipeg, $15-$16.50; Edmonton, $13-$14; Prince Albert, $14; Moose Jaw, $13-$14, and Saskatoon, $15.

Hog prices continued at previous week's levels, Toronto closed with grade "A" again at $22; Montreal $22.25; Winnipeg, $20.40; Calgary, $20.50; Edmonton, $21.25; Prince Albert, Moose Jaw, Saskatoon and Regina, $20.15, and Vancouver $21.25-$21.50.

Little Stories for Bedtime

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

DANNY MEADOW MOUSE IS GLAD HE IS SMALL

If ever in all the Great World there was a startled Bear, that one was Buster Bear when Danny Meadow Mouse ran straight at him. Beechnuts were in Buster Bear's mind, sweet little beechnuts, and nothing else, when he reached out a great paw to rake over that little pile of leaves. It didn't enter Buster's head that there might be anything but beechnuts under them. So when Danny Meadow Mouse with a frightened squeak darted out from under Buster's very paw and straight towards him, Buster was so surprised and startled that for a second or two he didn't know what to do.

Danny had darted behind a big tree

Now it seemed an absolutely crazy thing for Danny to run straight to Buster, but the truth is it was the wisest thing he could have done. It wasn't wisdom that made him do it. No, indeed, it wasn't wisdom at all. It was just pure fright and nothing else. Danny was so frightened that he didn't have any idea at all where he was running. He just ran, that was all. And because he happened to be facing Buster Bear he ran straight at him.

Now if he had run away from Buster things might not have turned out at all as they did. Buster would have seen just where he went and the instant he recovered from his surprise would have been after him. As it was, Danny darted right under Buster's big paw and right across the toes of one of Buster's big hind feet. Buster is a big fellow and he looks clumsy, but he isn't nearly as clumsy as he looks. In fact, Buster isn't clumsy at all. He is surprisingly quick in his movements for such a big fellow. The instant he recovered from his surprise at the sudden appearance of Danny Meadow Mouse, Buster whirled about. A fat Meadow Mouse would go splendidly with those sweet beechnuts he had eaten.

But by the time Buster had turned about Danny had darted behind a big tree and there he stopped. He stopped because he didn't know which way to go. It happens that that was the wisest thing he could have done. You see, if he had continued to run he would have rustled the dry leaves and Buster would have known just where he was. But because he stopped as he did there was nothing to tell Buster which way he had gone.

For once in his life Danny Meadow Mouse was glad he was little. Right then he would have been glad to have been smaller than he was. Many, many times he had wished he was big, but now he was very, very thankful that he wasn't. Had he been big, as big, let us say, as Peter Rabbit, the chances are that he wouldn't have been able to slip out from under Buster's big paw as he had done. He was glad that he was little. Yes, indeed, Danny Meadow Mouse was glad that he was little.

According to Culbertson

(Copyright, 1947, by Ely Culbertson)

South, in today's deal, thought he was doing his full duty by making a strong bid on the second round. Unfortunately, however, his show of strength was in the wrong direction.

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

♣ A Q 10 6

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	1 ♦	Pass	2 ♦
2 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

South did not even have the satisfaction of making his two-spade contract—he went down two tricks.

This was bad enough, but in view of the five hearts that could have been made without difficulty, the result for North-South was far worse. South argued in the post-mortem that his second round two-very strong bid—as strong as he spade bid, being a "reverse" was a could afford—and that North, therefore, might well have ventured into the bidding with three hearts on his six-card suit.

There was no validity in this argument. North did not dare enter the bidding. From North's point of view, South's bidding might easily have been five clubs, four spades, two diamonds and two small hearts, with considerable strength in the black suits, but nothing of value in hearts.

The truth of the matter was that South's sequence of bids, though strong, was very uninformative. South's proper action over two diamonds was a takeout double. This double would command North to bid his best suit (for if he had none worth mentioning to support clubs) and, needless to say, North would have been delighted to respond in hearts. South then could have raised to a game in hearts. The spade bid virtually confined the partnership to spades or clubs, whereas South's holding was such that he could be just as pleased with a heart contract.

Books and Authors

Reforms are urgently needed in both the Senate and the Commons, according to George Hambleton, former Ottawa superintendent of The Canadian Press, who writes his impressions of the Dominion's bicameral system of government in "Everyman's Guide to Canada's Parliament."

The work describes the functions of Parliament, its origins, the sometimes vague terms, the place of the committees, the election system and its flaws, wartime developments, coverage by the press and many other facts of life on Parliament Hill.

that Canada has failed to keep pace with Britain in altering its parliamentary methods of business. The British House is "more alive to public opinion . . . Its reactions are quicker. Its assertions of parliamentary independence more emphatic."

Mr. Hambleton finds Ottawa's daily question time, limited rigidly to one question per member, "insipidly routine" by comparison with Westminster's daily battle of wits.

ELECTORAL SYSTEM IS HEAVILY HIT

The electoral system is heavily hit by the writer, who records that in 1945, 129 of the 245 members of the House were elected on a minority vote.

Of this, he feels that the "simple truth is that the two old parties do not really want a change which, in all probability, would give a large representation to small groups."

Mr. Hambleton states that a Senate nominated by the Government in power and holding office for life "is an anachronism."

Ottawa superintendent for The Canadian Press for seven years, its representative for 10 years in the British parliament, and representative at the League of Nations and many international and imperial conferences, is part of the record of Mr. Hambleton's carreer.

The Book-of-the-Month Club is launching a controversial book as one of its May selections. "Why They Behave Like Russians," by John Fischer, a young journalist, has already stirred up quite a storm and bids fair to continue its record under the tremendously wide distribution of the club.

COLLECTED MATERIAL IN THE UKRAINE

The on-the-ground material collected by Mr. Fischer for the book was obtained in roughly two months as a member of the U.N.R.R.A. mission in the Ukraine in early 1946. Marshall MacDuffie, chief of that mission, was the man who levelled guns of criticism at the book.

After considerable dispute, however, judges of the club brought the two men together and differences were settled with a few minor changes. One other matter, Mr. MacDuffie's doubt as to the capabilities of Mr. Fischer as a reporter on the Russian scene, was settled to the satisfaction of the judges of the club after a little probing. Of interest to Canadians is the fact that Mr. Fischer started his studies on Russia at Oxford as a Rhodes scholar in 1933.

John P. Marquand, one of the book club judges, found the reportorial work "a singularly unbiased book about the Soviet scene." The other judges agreed and continued to agree even after Mr. MacDuffie's criticism.

Continuing the dual May selection is a novel, "Aurora Dawn," by Herman Wouk.

Current Reviews

"Dark Summer," by Dorothy K. Aldis; Thomas Allen Ltd., Toronto; $2.50.

It was indeed the threat of a dark Summer when Judy Burr awakened one morning to find her eyesight failing. Joyful thought of attending Summer camp with her twin sister, Ann, speedily vanished as she realized her existence in a dim world would be vastly different.

Wedding plans for Alice, an elder sister, added to the many burdens of Mrs. Burr, whose husband was wrapped up in postwar work at Washington, D.C.

Judy's mother, and her many young friends, did their utmost to bring bright cheer and hope to the half-blind girl. Friendship, loving care, and advice of the competent family physician enrichened the life of Judy and produced a happy ending.—G.P.

"Open Windows" by Clara Bernhardt; W. B. Ferdmans Publishing Co.; $1.50.

There have been more novels written around the life of newspapermen than perhaps any other profession, and this is another. In this one the author shows an obvious lack of background and understanding about the business.

The hero, Peter Ingram, is the "ace" reporter on a big daily paper, evidently in Toronto, who spurns the advances of the publisher's beautiful daughter for the bucolic charm of a music teacher who spends her spare time going to Bible College.

This story comes under the publisher's heading of "Christian Literature," and is so full of religious platitudes and quotations, that as a novel it can hardly be considered serious writing.—J.O'C.

"Wind Across the World," by Dorothy Graham; Thomas Allen Ltd., Toronto; $3.

This in the intriguing story of Kit Fenton, who arrived at Shanghai in 1896, when her father had been engaged to build the first railway up the Yangtse Valley.

The Fentons soon found they were intruders, trying to force their way into a civilization that was ordered and immutable. Custom was stronger than law. The Empress Dowager, known as Old Buddha, tried to hold time back against the tide of Western progress.

There are tense scenes of violence and deep serenity in this novel by a writer who knows China well enough to convey the true flavor of the Celestial Empire and the character of its people.—G.B.

"The Foundations of Canadian Policy in World Affairs," by Secretary of State Louis St. Laurent; University of Toronto Press; 25 cents.

On January 13, Mr. St. Laurent delivered an important address at the University of Toronto, in which he outlined Canada's foreign policy in the world today.

This booklet is a copy of the lecture, and is printed in both English and French, as the Gray Foundation, under whose auspices it was delivered, and is aimed at fostering a clearer understanding between the two main ethnical groups in the Dominion.

Perhaps one of most definite pronouncements on Canada's future relations with other countries, Mr. St. Laurent deals with the Dominion's position in the British Commonwealth, its relation to the United States, and the United Nations.

He omits, however, any definite statements about other countries, except France, India and China; Soviet Russia isn't mentioned at all.—J.O'C.

"The Prefabricated House," by Raymond K. Graff, Rudolph A. Matern and Henry Lionel Williams; McClelland & Stewart Ltd., Toronto; $3.50.

A subject on which a lot of misinformation has been circulated gets a very exhaustive treatment in this practical guide for the prospective buyer, of a prefabricated home.

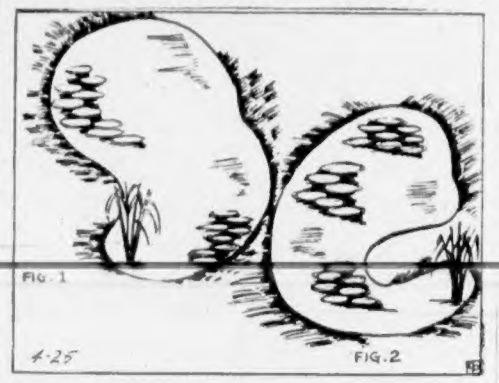
It deals with advantages and disadvantages of this type of housing and discusses in great detail every item of importance from closets to indoor and outdoor porches, windows and floors.

Written in a clear, comprehensive style, and illustrated with drawings and photographs, it is one of best technical works especially for the layman on a subject of contemporary interest.—J.O'C.

COMMUNITY BOOSTERS

NIPAWIN, Sask. (C.P.)—Nipawin's boosters are at it again. This time it's a rodeo complete with cowboys and broncos. Spokesmen for the Board of Trade, who sponsored the big $12,000 Nipawin Bonspiel, said they hoped to make the whole country conscious of Nipawin.

Informal Pools for Small Gardens



IF you have your heart set on a lily pool and your garden is too small, plan an informal pool. In general, for the average small lot or garden, or when the garden and lawn are sloping or irregular, the informal or naturalistic type of pool is best, states Garden Expert Dean Halliday.

There are numerous designs for naturalistic pools but often the contour of the garden suggests the shape. A pool is always best situated when placed at the lowest level, so one can look down upon the water and see mirrored therein the reflections of surrounding shrubs and plants. The accompanying sketch suggests two attractive shapes.

The sides of the informal pool should not be above ground level. The depth is determined by its purpose. This may be either a shallow reflecting pool or one to create the appearance of depth. When the main object is to grow water lilies, the pool need not be deeper than 20 inches.

The Garden Column

Starter Solutions

Increased vegetable yields result from the application of starter solutions to newly transplanted tomato and cabbage plants, according to C.I.L. Agricultural News. The best fertilizer for this is one containing eight per cent water-soluble nitrogen, 24 per cent available phosphoric acid and eight percent water-soluble potash, dissolved in water and applied at the rate of one-half pint per plant. Nitrogen and potash are the plant food elements that have the greatest effect on early yield, while phosphate appears to have the greatest influence on the late or main yield of the crop. The treatment promotes early root growth, enabling the plant to adjust itself more readily to the new conditions and thus start vigorous growth sooner.

Treating Seeds

Home gardeners will find they will get a better stand of plants from the vegetable and flower seeds they sow by dusting the seeds with one of several prepared chemical compounds for the purpose, which can be bought at any seed store, states W. H. Wright, Chief Seed Analyst, Plant Production Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture. These seed-treating dusts are sold under such trade names as Arasan, Semesan, Spergon and Cuprocide. The last named should not be used to treat seeds of such crops as cabbage and brocoli or on lima beans.

Dusting of seeds helps to prevent attacks of fungi or moulds that cause seeds to rot or young seedlings to die before they come up. Small packets of seeds can be easily treated by opening the corner of the packet, then adding as much of the chemical dust as can be held on the point of a penknife. Close the packet and shake well. Care should be taken not to inhale any of the dust and to wash the hands with soap and water after handling the dust.

Carrot Fly Control

Unfortunately the following information will not control carrot fly. But it adds to our sum total of knowledge concerning this insect, the worst pest of vegetable garden, in Victoria, states W. H. Warren. Pests like flea beetle, carrot fly and cabbage root maggot prefer dry soil and atmospheric conditions. Severe outbreaks of these pests can be avoided by attending to the water requirements of the plants. Plants never fully recover from the combined check to growth caused by insects and drought, especially in the early stages. Delayed sowings and early lifting of the carrot crop are advised. Thin sowings tend to reduce the attack. Carrots sown in open windswept position away from hedges, etc., where the fly may find shelter, tends to reduce the concentration of the attack.

Heathers

A garden without several well-chosen heathers can hardly be called complete. Few groups of plants have such a wide range. They prefer the open; with plenty of sun and like well-drained ground. Soil with a bit of peat is favored, and the plants require little attention after being well started, requiring only an annual top dressing of peat or leaf-mould and cutting back when flowers fade. The heather family includes tiny plants of two inches, like Erica vulgaris minima, and some growing as high as six and eight feet, like Erica australis or Erica lusitanica, with a wide variety of the species and some hybrids in between, all attractive in flower colors and different hued foliage.

Garden Paths

Much will depend upon how much they are to be used, when, and what materials are available, when one starts planning paths and roadways, states Gordon Lindsay Smith. If traffic is light, good firm grass will carry many feet and if the ground is dry a car, too, occasionally. As a general rule, however, something more permanent must be laid down for motor traffic and the same is advisable where there is much tramping back and forth.

For pathways, flag stone, brick, cinder or crushed gravel are advisable. For the sake of the lawn mower it is desirable to have stones or other material as flush as possible with surrounding sod. Gravel and cinders should be fine and preferably pressed firmly together so they won't scatter on nearby grass. Where a loose material is used most gardeners keep weeds down by applications of commercial weed killers, waste oil or rock salt. These help to bind gravel, keep down dust and discourage frost. With roadways good drainage is essential. A six or 10-inch layer of coarse stones or rocks, beneath the fine material on top, is available, especially where the ground is heavy.

Field crickets usually live outdoors and feed on vegetation.

The unit of weighing gold is the troy ounce.

Glimmer and Shimmer Hollywood

Frederic Bickel, Myrna Williams, Muriel Wright, Carver Andrews and Virginia Jones

does it? Yet it is.

It is in fact the cast of "The Best Years of Our Lives" opening at Oak Bay Theatre tomorrow which won a grand total of nine Oscars, and is heralded as a classic of contemporary life.

But the names that appear on the billboards are Frederic March, Myrna Loy, Teresa Wright, Dana Andrews and Virginia Mayo.

Here is how the trouble started.

Every one of the well-known and popular players adopted a career name for reasons.

MYRNA LOY

Myrna Williams changed her surname to Loy at the instigation of the late Rudolf Valentino. He had cast her to play the Oriental siren in "What Price Beauty" and decided that Williams was too Occidental a name for a slow-eyed native charmer. Later, when Myrna established herself as a comedienne it was too late to revert to her own name. She's been Loy ever since.

Both Theresa Wright and Dana Andrews adopted their middle names as pseudonyms early in their careers.

DANA ANDREWS AND TERESA WRIGHT

Theresa was obliged to make the change when she discovered that another Wright was registered with movie companies. Dana dispensed with Carver when he gave up a promising career as an operatic singer in favor of the screen.

Carver an agent told him was too "high hat" for the movies.

Virginia Mayo is probably the only Hollywood star named after a portion of horse.

As plain Virginia Jones from St. Louis, her first job was at Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe where she appeared as a ring-mistress to a horse stuffed with two comedians. One of them, the aft one, was her brother-in-law, Andy Mayo, and when Samuel Goldwyn offered Virginia a contract she promptly appropriated Mayo's name for professional use.

VIRGINIA MAYO

Cast as a philosophical battler, Hoagy Carmichael, popular pianist and composer, plays five numbers in "The Best Years of Our Lives."

HOAGY CARMICHAEL

Frederic March dropped Beadle for a surname when a carefree employer substituted a "P" for a B in a newspaper review. To prevent further identification as "pickle" he changed his last name to March because the incident happened in that month. At the same time he shortened his first name to the more streamlined Frederic.

The film is the longest picture since "Gone With the Wind," lasting approximately three hours.

The heroes, played by March, Andrews and a young new-comer, Harold Russell, all meet on the train taking them back to their home town. March, gay and pleasure-loving, is returning to a bank executive's job and to his lovely wife and daughter, played respectively by Miss Loy and Miss Wright.

Andrews has a very selfish and gold-digging wife, played by Miss Mayo. She was contented until her husband could find nothing better than his old drug store job. Andrews and Miss Wright eventually fall in love. Russell, handicapped by the loss of both hands, also comes back disillusioned to his sweetheart but cannot bring himself to propose. Cut with his woes, Miss Cathy O'Donnell, current young dramatic discovery, plays the sweetheart.

How all the difficulties are cleared up is handled with telling effect and delightful humor by the cast. The story is based on MacKinlay Kantor's novel "Glory For Me."

FILM AT ROYAL

The motion picture "It's a Wonderful Life," with James Stewart, will be showing at the Royal Theatre starting tomorrow. There will be no production of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" at the Royal as previously reported.

PORT SAID, Egypt, April 24 (AP)—A giant British floating dock en route from India to Malta completed its passage through the Suez Canal last night. The dock is capable of handling 50,000-ton ships.

Popular Star Brian Aherne In City Today

Brian Aherne, popular screen and stage star and his wife will arrive in Victoria by air this morning for a few hours of sightseeing before boarding the afternoon boat for Seattle.

Aherne has come here on RKO Radio business. The Locket, which is scheduled to open at the Capitol Theatre here tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Aherne arrived in Vancouver from Hollywood yesterday and both expressed themselves as "delighted" with the climate, scenery and people of Vancouver.

However we just couldn't think of going back without seeing Victoria," Mr. Aherne said. "We've both heard so much about your beautiful city from friends who have been there we feel we just can't afford to miss it."

Aherne has a motorboat and he would like to bring an amphibious airplane to Vancouver Island and land at some of the lakes and inlets where he has heard the fishing is "wonderful."

With the Athernes in the Hotel Vancouver party were Katherine Cornell, America's first lady of the theatre, and the English actor, Wilfred Lawson.

All three appeared in the Canadian premiere of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" in Vancouver recently, and Frederic Aherne played Rudolf Barretts of Wimpole Street.

Polio Heroine Film Drama Subject

Thirty-five full years in the life of the famed crusader against the dread scourge of polio are provided to the Atlas Theatre screen in RKO Radio's engrossing biographical drama "Sister Kenny," co-starring Rosalind Russell in the role of the dynamic Australian nurse and Alexander Knox as her faithful friend and champion Dr. McDonnell. Dean Jagger is featured as the Great War hero Nurse Kenny could never marry.

The screen play written by Producer-Director Dudley Nichols, Alexander Knox and Mary McCarthy is an adaptation of the Kenny biography "And They Shall Walk," which Nurse Kenny wrote in collaboration with Martha Ostenso.

Randolph Scott In Western Epic

The fabulous exploits of "Bat" Masterson, famous U.S. marshal and badman's Nemesis, are brought to the screen in RKO Radio's dramatic "Trail Street" which ends tomorrow night at the Dominion Theatre. Randolph Scott has the role of "Bat," co-starring with Robert Ryan, Anne Jeffreys and George Gabby" Hayes in this gripping story of the war between farmers and cowmen in Kansas 70 years ago.

Scott's work as Masterson is ranked as the best of his career. Ryan is a land agent who is responsible for the farmers settling in the area. Miss Jeffreys is a cabaret singer and Gabby" Hayes a livery stable keeper.

Drama and Comedy In Royal Film

Drama, comedy and fantasy are all combined to furnish delightful entertainment in Frank Capra's new romantic drama for Liberty Films, "It's a Wonderful Life," opening at the Royal Theatre tomorrow and starring James Stewart and Donna Reed. Stewart plays a small town boy whose efforts to get away and see the world are always thwarted by the demands made upon him by the townspeople. Miss Reed in her first starring film is seen as his childhood sweetheart whom he finally marries. Lionel Barrymore, Thomas Mitchell, Henry Travers and Beulah Bondi head the long cast of supporting players.

Royals Take First Game of Ice Final

Eastern Champs Outplay Calgary Stampeders To Score 7-3 Win in Senior Hockey Series

TORONTO April 26 (CP) The Montreal Royals outskated and outplayed Calgary Stampeders to chalk up a 7-3 victory at Maple Leaf Gardens tonight in the first game of the Dominion senior hockey finals for the Allan Cup

The Royals Eastern Canadian champions showed too much power for the Stampeders who appeared a little road-weary and came to life only in bursts throughout the game

Cliff Malone spearheaded the Royals in the opener of the best-of-seven series scoring a pair of goals and assisting in two others Other Montreal goals were tallied by Doug Harvey, Floyd Curry Gerry Plamondon and Ted Campeau

Joe Fisher Red Hunter and Dutch Grant scored for Stampeders who are defending the laurels they won last year when they defeated Hamilton Tigers in the Allan Cup finals

The teams now move to Montreal for the second game of the series Tuesday night

Play opened at a speedy pace with Calgary taking the advantage in the first ten minutes Fisher sent the Western champs into a 1-0 lead and it was not before he beat M Neil after Calgary stood behind the Montreal net

Montreal came back with a rush of hard offside at the midway mark Harvey put the defence to sleep Dutch and tied the score for Montreal at 11 15 Twenty five seconds later Harvey set Malone in the clear with a perfect pass from the right wing and Malone shot the puck into the far side to give Montreal a lead they never relinquished

United Team Scores 5-2 Anderson Cup Win To Deadlock Series With Nanaimo Eleven

Two goal performances by Ken Mees and Ab Travis yesterday helped Victoria United to a 5-2 Anderson Cup victory over Nanaimo before 1,000 appreciative fans at Macdonald Park Played under ideal weather conditions the match was productive of fast brilliant soccer Were the entire game as thrilling as the last ten minutes of play the match would have to be considered

Alex Parks opened the scoring when he picked a pass from Scott Pat Wilson and drove the ball into the Nanaimo net Mees duplicated the feat in the second half when he beat Mc Neil after receiving a pass from Ab Travis

Nanaimo came back strongly and kept up a relentless attack in the last period but could not find the Victoria net

Charlton Athletic Wins Association Cup Final

LONDON, April 26 (CP)—Scottish-born Chris Duffy broke up the Football Association cup final today after 27 minutes of overtime to give Charlton Athletic a 1-0 victory over Burnley before 100,000 fans packed in London's Wembley Stadium.

Duffy, a 27-year-old outside left drove in a hard kick from 15 yards [illegible] a close defensive game Duffy cost his club only £325 ($1,300) last season.

Charlton went into the final as an underdog in the betting. Last year the First Division champions were beaten by Derby County in the final.

Charlton has never before won the cup.

It was the biggest football day of the year-round season and brilliant sunshine made playing conditions ideal.

The 1,000,000-to-1 chance of the ball bursting occurred 30 minutes after the opening whistle. In last year's cup final the ball burst 15 seconds from the end.

LONDON, April 26 (CP)—Ambrose and Exeter lists were the order of the day today as English soccer clubs knocked out of the Football Association cup competition earlier in the season battled to hold their positions in the league standing.

In Belfast's Windsor Park Belfast Celtic edged out Glentoran 1-0 to win the Irish Cup.

One international exhibition game was played between Torquay United, a Cornish squad and Bolton's Manchester Football Club. The Lancashire won 3-1.

In regular league play Wolverhampton Wanderers maintained their one point lead over Manchester United in the English League's First Division by beating Chelsea 6-4. Manchester United stayed close with a close 1-0 verdict over Portsmouth.

The Wolves leaders since shortly after the season started last August, are favorites to hold the No. 1 spot. They have five more games [illegible] Manchester has only four. [illegible] Division, Huddersfield was unchanged Manchester City leader with five points to spare did not play and second-place Burnley was in the cup final.

The Southern Section deadlock between Cardiff City and Queen's Park Rangers was broken when Cardiff downed Ipswich 3-2 while the Rangers dropped a similar verdict to Swindon. Cardiff now leads with 56 points, two more than the Lancashire club.

Only four games were played in the Scottish League's Division "A" and these left the leadership unchanged. Queen's Park, needing only one point to avoid relegation, got it by a scoreless draw with Aberdeen.

The two clubs to play in the B Division next year now are Kilmarnock and Hamilton Academicals.

VANCOUVER, April 26 (CP)—In one of the [illegible] at Connaught Park in [illegible] St. Andrews edged out North Shore by a 1-0 count in a Pacific Coast Soccer League game here today before 2,000 fans.

The win put the Saints back into a tie for top place with Victoria while the loss eliminated any chance the Reds had of winning the second half schedule.

The most prominent feud of the day was between Lee Morley of the Reds, and burly Nick Glover, Saints' right half. Tempers were at a boil the first half and in the second came the warfare broke out in the open. Then too the referee, by Dan Kulai brought complaints. A new ball put into play was kicked into an egg shape and although both squad complained he disregarded their pleas and let the sphere stay in play.

The performances of the opposing netminders Stan Laycock for the Reds and Bobby Newbold of the Saints had much to do with only one counter being scored in the tilt. Newbold had to be smart on a drive from Sid Gorrie in which he was called upon to make a full-length save on the shot. At the other end Laycock had to be equally good as he made saves from Matheson and Johnny Newbold.

The only marker of the contest came three minutes before the half when Morley passed down Gorrie's midfield. Gorrie took the ball and sent the ball into the goalmouth from which Frank Amber headed it into the net.

Early in the second half Morley was [illegible] Glover [illegible] Referee Kerr [illegible] both resumed matching glove.

St. Andrews had the greater share of play during the second half but couldn't beat the stingy Laycock. North Shore made one last desperate bid for a win and Morley burned one in from 15 yards out that had goal tickled on it all the way [illegible] have Newbold [illegible] a great save.

Reds Defeat Pirates Dodgers in Top Spot

By The Canadian Press Staff Writer

Pittsburgh's amazing Pirates were knocked off the top of the National League standings today for the first time since opening day as they fell before the second division Cincinnati Reds 3-2 while Brooklyn Dodgers were pasting the New York Giants 9-3 to move into the number [illegible] spot.

Over in the junior circuit the equally surprising Chicago White Sox continued their winning ways as they journeyed to St. Louis and set the Browns down, 2-0, behind the two-hit pitching of Veteran Thornton Lee, to maintain a slight edge over the New York Yankees, who were busy knocking off the Washington Senators, 3-1, with Rookie Don Johnston, King Kong Charlie Keller led the Yankees with a homer and a double, driving in two runs.

Another major attraction of the day was the first 1947 meeting of Bob Feller, of Cleveland, considered the best right-hander in the American loop, and Hal Newhouser the right to be the best southpaw. Feller came up with a three-hit masterpiece while the Indians batted Newhouser out in the eighth [illegible] winning, 6-0.

In the other American game Philadelphia Athletics raised to the second straight day to beat the champion Boston Red Sox with a four-run outburst in the ninth [illegible]

Jubb Breaks Swim Marks In "Y" Meet

EVERETT, April 26 (AP)—The Seattle junior team nosed out the Victoria Seniors 31 to 30 here tonight to win the Pacific Northwest [illegible] YMCA swimming championships from a field of eight teams.

Other teams finished in the following order: Everett 11, Tacoma 9, Mount Vernon 7, Spokane 8, Vancouver, B.C., 5, and Northeast "Y" of Portland 1.

Three meet records were broken. Eric Jubb of Victoria set new marks by winning the 40-yard free style in 19 seconds flat and the 100-yard backstroke in 1.07.9. The Seattle free style relay squad shaved [illegible] seconds off the old time in winning the 160-yard event in 1.30.2.

Softball League Starts Tomorrow With Rival Senior Teams Playing

The softball season will be ushered in tomorrow when the senior "A" men's league holds its opening game at the Upper Central Park diamond at 6.30 p.m.

The opener should be a natural with Esquimalt Meat Market team meeting the Douglas Tire split. Both teams are managed by members of Cubs championship team last year and a healthy rivalry already is evident. Jim Lackie, who managed Cubs to the city title last year, has transferred his affections to Esquimalt, while Joe Bryant Lackie's star hurler last season will be at the helm of Douglas Tire.

Lackie has gathered in a couple of dark horses to do mound duty and behind them will be such well-known players as Vic Dale, Chick Newman, Al Ellis and Ed Young. Douglas Tire boasts a starry line up including Bryant, Perkins, Holmes, Percy Andrews, Art Chapman, Gunner Hutchman, Clarke, Harris and possibly Norm Baker.

Tuesday night sees Brentwood Aces playing their first game in senior company against army, navy and air force veterans. Brentwood have the Bench boys, Pat Haugh, Ferenator, McLennan and Knott together with some newcomers. The vets claim that they have a winning team composed of veteran softballers and some young blood. Red Palmer, Jack Okell, Hap Milligan and Norm Martin will be in uniform.

The fifth team in the league is Blue Bird Cabs. They have taken over from Cyros and open their season on Wednesday night with such players as Toad Garner, Stan Tenning, Ken King, Gussy Hilton, Billy Duncan, Jack Batty and several other first-class players. All five teams appear to be well balanced and any one of them could finish out in front.

Games for the first week of play are:

Monday—Esquimalt Meat Market vs. Douglas Tire.

Tuesday—A.N. & A.F. Vets vs. Brentwood Aces.

Wednesday—Douglas Tire vs. Blue Bird Cabs.

Thursday—Brentwood Aces vs. Esquimalt Meat Market.

Friday—A.N. & A.F. Vets vs. Blue Bird Cabs.

All games at Upper Central, 6.30 p.m.

No Ideology Seen Yet To Replace Old Naziism

HEIDELBERG, April 26 (NANA)—As Germany swings toward its second full year of liberation from Nazi propaganda, the question is being asked here with increasing frequency: "What has been substituted in its stead?"

The answer is nothing yet. Big strides have been mad in establishing democratic processes in the American zone. But—as Philosophy Professor Karl Jaspers of Heidelberg University observed today—"You don't turn out democrats overnight!"

Sitting in his private study, booklined from the floor to the ceiling, the professor said: "It is far too early to talk of having substituted a new ideology for Naziism. Democracy is a plant of slow growth. Political maturity is the result of education.

"I have about 600 students. . . . I try hard to fix in their minds the moral bases of political life. I give them the early Greek and Roman philosophic teachings, and later I stress the American and British fight for the dignity of mankind and human freedom."

Jaspers does not cite the French revolution as part of the idealist struggle for freedom. He believes that that was mingled with nationalism. For illustrations he prefers to give the classic German contributions to the idea of freedom beginning with the story of the Hanseatic League.

Jasper is the author of "The question of German war-guilt!"—A 63-year-old silver-haired man who looks almost like a reincarnation of Goethe. Commenting on the recent elections here, he said today: "One of the most politically mature persons I spoke to was the [illegible]. She told me she was not going to vote, because she did not know what it was all about."

"The election," he said, "was in part a referendum on the new constitution of Wuertemberg-Baden. Politicians drafted it after months of study; then posted it up on the walls and gave the public four weeks to decide whether they would have it or not. It seemed to me nonsense to expect people to make up their minds in so short a time. It needed long study and discussion. My servant said: 'I won't vote because I don't know if this constitution is good or bad.' She had reached the first stage of political maturity—which is to know what you don't know. Hitler could scarcely have put over a new constitution more quickly. After what Germany has gone through, at least a year was needed before deciding on a constitution."

Next in Line to Greek Throne

At the age of three, Prince Constantine of Greece learned to salute during a military parade in Athens. Just behind him stands his mother, who became Queen Frederika when King Paul I succeeded the late King George II. Now six years old, Constantine becomes Crown Prince and heir-apparent. While Their Majesties have a daughter, Princess Sophia, eight, Greek laws allow only male succession.

Better English

By D. C. WILLIAMS

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "He is a noted gangster."
2. What is the correct pronunciation of "marital?"
3. Which one of these words is mispelled? Tafetta, tabernacle, taciturn.
4. What does the word "vacillate" mean?
5. What is a word beginning with dep that means "sad, grievous?"

ANSWERS

1. Say, "He is a notorious gangster." 2. Pronounce mar-i-tal, both a's as in at, second a unstressed, i as in it unstressed, accent first syllable. 3. Taffeta. 4. To move one way and the other; to waver. (Pronounce first syllable vas, a as in at). "A spheroid is always liable to shift and vacillate from one axis to another."—Paley. 5. Deplorable.

Five Days Left Before Closing Of Nominations

A short five days is all that remains before the deadline for fans wishing to take part in the contest to decide Victoria's amateur athlete of the year March 31, 1946 to March 31, 1947. Sports enthusiasts intending to forward the name of some athlete, male or female, who in their opinion is a suitable candidate for the award, are urged to send in their letters to The Sports Editor of The Daily Colonist by Thursday, May 1 closing date of the contest.

As previously announced the writer of the best letter in the opinion of the judge will be presented with two season's tickets to all home games of Victoria Athletic professional baseball team. Apart from that, the judging committee is anxious to hear from as many sports enthusiasts as possible, giving reasons for their choices. With the comprehensive view thus gained the judges task will be made that much easier and there should be little doubt as to which athlete is most deserving of the award.

The award will be made on the basis of ability and sportsmanship displayed on the playing field or court and will be announced following a parley of members of the judging committee after May 1.

Plans are being readied for a ceremony to mark the presentation of the Sid Thomas Memorial Trophy to the winner. Donated by Brock Whitney the cup will be awarded annually to Victoria's outstanding amateur active sports participant.

Pigeon Racing Club To Commence Season

Victoria Racing Pigeon Club will start the season's racing today when the birds will race from Tacoma, a distance of 80 miles.

Races are scheduled each week with distances being increased each race until the birds are flying from California. Racing points are: Centralia, 120 miles; Kelso, 150 miles; Portland, 200 miles; Salem, 250 miles; Eugene, 300 miles; Medford, 426 miles; Ashland, 450 miles, and Weed, California, 500 miles.

Truck Drivers Given Advice By Police Chief

Chief J. A. McLellan today warned young truck drivers of the responsibility of their job.

"Trucking is not easy work," said the chief. "It requires a steady brain, steady hands, good judgment, and sound knowledge of traffic laws. To drive a truck day in and day out, without accident, is a real man's job.

"The young truck driver will do well to remember that he is in charge of a piece of machinery that can accomplish his work and earn his pay, or it can cause endless worry, loss, suffering, and even death.

"The truck driver has many worries—not the least of them being the children who play on the streets and crowd around his truck as soon as it stops. The actions of children are so spontaneous and unpredictable that he must be constantly on guard to protect them from danger.

"One word of warning about double-parking. When making deliveries there is the temptation to double-park, but remember that double-parking is dangerous — it blocks traffic, obstructs the view, forces other cars on to the left side of the road, and, of course, may cost you a good slice of your day's pay if you have to pay a fine.

"We look to our truck drivers to use all their driving skill to help prevent accidents."

Saanich Indians In Soccer Upset

Saanich Indians, who have shown steady improvement after a succession of defeats in the early part of the season, provided an upset in intermediate soccer ranks yesterday when they defeated Saanich Thistles 3-1, to win the Fred Oliver Memorial Cup final.

In first round Davie Cup match Oak Bay triumphed over Gorge Aces 4-2. Johnny Rice notched the first three goals for winners in giving a smart performance. Robinson scored the other and coles tallied both goals for Aces. Oak Bay led 2-0 at the half.

A. Sherwin Leads Rifle Marksmen

Registering a score of 97 out of a possible 100 points, Sgt. Arthur Sherwin, of the 5th Regiment, led the field at the Saturday shoot of the Victoria and District Rifle Association. Millionaire Aids Mexico End Squalor and Slums

MEXICO CITY, April 26 (NANA)—The man appointed by President Miguel Aleman as Minister of National Economy in the new Mexican Cabinet already has shown considerable foresight in ridding his country of poverty and squalor.

Multi-Millionaire Antonio Ruiz Galindo is the creator of a new, ultra-modern industrial city on the outskirts here. His plans for contented workers in his office equipment-manufacturing plant encourage them to take shower baths on company time. Employees receive—free—balanced nutritious lunches on new tables with white tablecloths in a cheerful cafeteria.

As for housing, workers and their families get new apartments, also gratis. A man dressed in a white uniform scrubs the corridors of each apartment floor daily as a suggestion to the worker's wife that she keep her apartment just as clean.

"Mexico has 21,000,000 people, but only 6,000,000 buy consumer goods," said Galindo. "A great deal of money is being made in Mexico from the purchases of only these 6,000,000 consumers, many of whom actually buy very little. We plan to make our workers consumers of soap, towels, knives, forks, tablecloths and good food. Imagine the prosperity that would come to my country if the number of consumers could be increased—say to 15,000,000."

The new industrial city has a swimming pool, gymnasium, sports stadium, school, maternity and emergency hospital, general stores, library and garages. Countless windows provide much natural light and artificial lighting is of the latest style.

Ask City Council For Cinder Track

A request for construction of a cinder track at one of the city parks was contained in a recent letter to the City Council sent by Y.M.C.A. Track and Field Club. Suggesting Beacon Hill, Royal Athletic or Macdonald would be suitable locations, the club stated in its letter that the cost would not be great as cinders are easily available for trucking costs and that club members would voluntarily assist in the labor.

The club hopes to see a track ready for practice in preparation for Olympic trials in 1948 and has asked permission to meet with the parks board to discuss the matter.

PLEASURE CRAFT SINKS

The pleasure craft Discovery Isle, owned by R. Beaumont and well known in local waters, sank yesterday at its moorings at Discovery Island, just off Oak Bay, it was reported last night. Mr. Beaumont resides on Discovery Island. Details of the sinking were not available.

T.C.A. Flights to Be Increased To 36 Daily Starting on May 1

Trans-Canada Air Lines' flights between Victoria and Seattle and between Victoria and Vancouver are to be greatly increased commencing May 1, it was announced yesterday by R. L. Williams, city traffic manager. Commencing on that date, he said, the airline will operate a total of 36 flights in and out of Victoria.

Four flights daily, an increase of 50 per cent, will be added to the Victoria-Vancouver service, and the number of flights to Seattle will be doubled, Mr. Williams said.

There will be 12 flights daily in each direction between this city and Vancouver, and six flights between Victoria and the United States city.

On the short 30-minute flights to Vancouver the new T.C.A. timetables will offer travelers a commuter service starting at 8 a.m. daylight time until the last flight at 12:30 a.m. daylight time. In between there will be ten flights spaced no more than two hours and 15 minutes apart; two in the morning, four afternoon and four during the evening. Returning, flights will operate from Vancouver daily commencing 6:30 a.m. daylight time until 11 p.m. daylight time. However, for travelers to Eastern Canadian points convenient through flights will be available from Vancouver.

Southbound, the airline schedule of six daily flights has been balanced to offer departures through the day from 7:15 a.m. daylight time to 9:45 p.m. A second morning departure will be at 10 a.m. to be followed by two in the afternoon, one early at 12:45 and the other 4:15 daylight time. There will also be a 7 p.m. flight to reach Seattle 7:55. Return trips will be from early morning to late evening.

Contributors Will Receive Carnations As Tags From Lions Club on May 10

A "CARNATION Day" is being planned for May 10 by the Lions Club, it was announced yesterday by E. A. Estlin, chairman of the club committee in charge of arrangements. Distribution of the flowers—to number about 15,000—will follow a tag day pattern but instead of getting tags for their contribution, Mr. and Mrs. Victoria will receive a bright carnation. Boy Scouts have volunteered to assist in the program.

Proceeds of the day will go to Lions Club charities, including the Queen Alexandra Solarium, the Boy Scout movement in Greater Victoria, and the club's plan to provide cottages for elder citizens.

A similar carnation program is being planned for Vancouver where it is hoped it will become an annual event.

Office to Be Open Extra Hour To Handle Income Tax Returns

In order to accommodate those wishing to file income tax returns under the April 30 deadline, the tax office in the Belmont Building will remain open until 6 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, J. S. Stevens, Victoria tax office manager, said here yesterday.

"We are keeping open the extra hour to help office workers and others who have had no earlier opportunity to bring in the returns," he reported.

Mr. Stevens added that all returns not in before April 30 would incur a penalty of five per cent of the unpaid balance with a minimum fine of $5. For those mailing the returns, envelopes must be postmarked not later than April 30, he said.

All city residents, he said, were expected to pick up forms at the Belmont Building, and everyone was required to fill in a tax return.

As usual, the offices have been extremely crowded the past few days, and tables have been set up in the hallway of the fourth floor to relieve congestion in the office, Mr. Stevens stated.

However, he said, returns started coming in earlier in April this year, instead of being wholly concentrated in the last few days.

Plan Dredging Of Harbor To 22 Feet

R. W. Mayhew, M.P. for Victoria, in a letter to Mayor Percy E. George yesterday, advised that the Federal Public Works Department had been instructed to proceed with plans for the dredging of Victoria harbor to a depth of 22 feet, on the understanding that if this depth is found to be insufficient in the future it will be dredged to a greater depth.

Quoting tenders from the B.C. Bridge & Dredging Co., Mr. Mayhew said it would cost an additional $110,000 to dredge to a depth of 24 feet, and it was considered by E. H. Murphy, deputy minister of public works, that the 22-foot grade would be sufficient for the type of vessels at present in use and those proposed to be placed on the regulars runs.

City Police Court

Alexander Stuart was fined $50 or in default one month in jail when he appeared in city police court yesterday on a charge of consuming liquor in a restaurant.

Convicted recently of making threats against his wife, Alexander Watson was placed on probation to be of good behavior for a period of six months. He also was required to post a bond of $250.

Festival Week For Jubilee Of Institution

This week the Toronto Conservatory of Music celebrates its diamond jubilee with a special Jubilee Festival Week, April 28 to May 2.

Beginning as a small joint stock company with 200 students working in studios on two floors above a downtown store, the enterprise flourished from the very first.

In 1910 the conservatory reorganized and became a private trust, and extended branches throughout the city, and in 1921 the board of governors of the University of Toronto took over trusteeship and control for the public.

The institution is now headed by Ettore Mazzoleni as principal, as distinguished orchestra conductor, whose top colleague is Dr. Arnold Walter, Czech-born composer and critic and director of the conservatory's senior school.

Today the conservatory has courses covering almost every conceivable aspect of music and has even a drama class. An orchestra of 70 pieces also gives students a chance of playing with a full symphony orchestra and broadens their musical education.

Besides the symphony orchestra, there is a junior choir and numerous smaller musical groups, including a chamber orchestra, a woodwind ensemble and a string quartette.

Many Groups Sign Petition

A large number of city organizations have petitioned the board of governors of the University of British Columbia to establish a model nursery school, as the first step toward the foundation in the province of an institute of child study and training centre for nursery school teachers.

Organizations which signed the petition, it was stated yesterday, include the Greater Victoria School Board, Greater Victoria Teachers' Association, Victoria Parent-Teacher Council, Local Council of Women, Women's Institute, University Women's Club, Victoria Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., and 28 other clubs, societies and civic and labor organizations.

Air Force Planes Start Survey Covering 700,000 Square Miles

A Mitchell twin-engine photographic plane took off from Rockcliffe air station last week for Penticton, to mark the opening of the R.C.A.F.'s 1947 photographic survey work in Canada.

The plane will carry out photographic surveys from Penticton to Prince George in the Columbia River watershed; the eastern slopes of the Rockies near Lethbridge, Alberta, and Interior British Columbia near Terrace.

Responsible for the R.C.A.F.'s share in the mapping of Canada, photographic planes will cover 700,000 square miles of the Dominion during the Summer season in a schedule calling for its greatest contribution in 20 years.

This year's program calls for photo coverage from Laborador to British Columbia and from the Great Lakes to the Arctic Ocean.

Part of a co-ordinated program for the mapping of Canada by the R.C.A.F., the army and other Government departments, aerial photographs are needed for exploration and are used in countless ways from water power development and mineral exploration to town planning schemes.

Activities this year will be expanded and accelerated with improved equipment and methods, and experience gained in past years. New navigational aids and a special British camera built for the service will be used extensively.

CHEAP LUMBER
Cheap lumber at less than the price of wood. This lumber cannot be sold commercially at the sawmills because of being offsize, too much bark, split, check or pitch streaks, but hundreds of loads are being sold, and pieces picked out to repair barns, sidewalks, fences and garden stakes. Even if all this lumber were cut into wood it would be cheaper inside wood and a load will make about 1½ cords. Especially handy for people who live outside of town and find it hard to get wood.
This lumber is in 1, 2, 3 and 4-foot boards and planks and timbers up to 20 feet long.

Loggers Divided on Saturday Work Following 48-Hour Week Decision

Operators and International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.) officials reported a division today among British Columbia's 13,000 loggers, as some areas observed the recent arbitration board order to work a 48-hour week, while others continued the Saturday "holiday."

Bloedel, Stewart & Welch Ltd. reported that almost all their loggers in the Port Alberni area worked yesterday, while the union local at Courtenay said that many loggers in that district stayed off their jobs.

R. V. Stuart, operators' spokesman, said at Vancouver yesterday that John Higgins, union business agent at Courtenay had instructed loggers at Menzies Bay and Salmon River camps to ignore the arbitration board ruling. G. F. Anderson, union local president at Courtenay, said he knew of no such order being given to the men. Reports from Courtenay district camps indicated the loggers were observing a 40-hour week and not working Saturdays, Anderson said.

A dispatch from Ladysmith said that Comox Logging & Railway Co. loggers did not work yesterday, while The Canadian Press reported that 300 loggers at Langley Bay voted to refrain from working Saturday.

Last week in a majority decision, a three-man arbitration board ruled that coast loggers should work a 48-hour week by conditions of the 1946 master contract.

A Labor Department official said no action had yet been taken by the Government on the loggers' refusal to work.

Municipal Briefs Of the District

Opinion of the City Council on the question of admitting to Canada selected immigrants from Europe has been asked by the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities in a letter received by Mayor P. E. George yesterday.

Mayor Percy E. George has been asked to deliver an address of welcome to the opening session of the forthcoming convention of the Quota Club, scheduled to be held here in June.

Deploring the "mounting number of unsolved major crimes of the Greater Victoria area," the Local Council of Women have forwarded to Mayor Percy E. George a copy of a resolution advocating the amalgamation of the police forces in the Greater Victoria area.

Fire Losses High At Fair Grounds Report Declares

Outbreaks of fire in the Willows fair grounds, until recently owned by the City of Victoria, have been responsible for more than 80 per cent of the fire loses in the Municipality of Oak Bay during the nine years the fire department has been in operation, Fire Chief Edward G. Clayards said in a report released yesterday.

Total fire losses in Oak Bay in the period under review were $190,121, and of that figure $155,071 was lost through fires occurring in buildings within the Willows grounds, the chief stated.

LEG BROKEN
Leonard C. Harris suffered a broken leg when he fell five feet from a platform at the Victoria Lumber Company shortly after 3 p.m. Friday, city police reported.
He was taken by police to Jubilee Hospital for treatment after being given first aid on the spot.

L. V. MANNING DIES
Mrs. E. Turner, 1176 Yates Street, has learned by cable from London, England, of the death of her youngest brother, L. V. Manning, who was killed in a motor accident.
Well-known columnist and sports writer, Mr. Manning was employed by the London Daily Graphic and Sketch.

Unions to Hold Meetings On Situation

A.F.L. and C.C.L. unions affected by the strike at Yarrows Ltd. will hold separate meetings today, when members will be told of developments at recent meetings with the shipyard management.

T. A. Mitchell, business agent for the Marine Workers, Machinists and Boilermakers' Industrial Union, C.C.L., said yesterday a full meeting of that union would be held at 7:30 tonight at 715 Johnson Street. A full review and report on the strike situation will be given.

George Wilkinson, secretary of the A.F.L. Trades and Labor Council, said a meeting of all members of Victoria Shipyard Workers' Federal Union, No. 238, will be held at 2 p.m. today in the Boilermakers' Hall, 902 Government Street.

ONE OF INTERESTING SIGHTS IN ISLANDS

PICTURED is one of hundreds of interesting sights to be found throughout the Gulf Islands. "Polly" is the beloved feathered pet of Mr. and Mrs. B. Barron, residing at "Twin Beaches" on the southern tip of Galiano Island.

Free at all times to come and go as it pleases, the parrot spends each fine day among heavy timber near its home, or about the beaches, returning for regular meals. Wet or windy days find the bird in the home of its owners, where it is also given free rein. At this time of the year, when green leaves abound on practically everything that is growing on the land, it is practically impossible to find the parrot after it leaves its cage for the outdoors. Its feathers are a combination of light and dark green.

Brick Factory At Hillbank Nearly Ready

DUNCAN, April 26.—The installation of machinery at the Lupton Shale Brick factory at Hillbank is now practically completed, and the manufacture of bricks will commence very shortly.

The source of supply is in the shale banks of the Koksilah River. The shale is conveyed to the factory on a 2[illegible]-yard double track railway, in cable cars.

At the factory the cars will be taken in a cradle and dumped into a powerful 30-ton crushing machine. From there it will be conveyed to a power press and burned.

The factory will have an initial daily capacity of 20,000 bricks.

The shale has been thoroughly tested. The supply is adequate for many years' operation.

All workmen on the work are veterans of the World War.

Dreany Named To Head Body

LAKE COWICHAN, April 26.—H. Dreany was elected president of the Lake Cowichan Chamber of Commerce at the annual meeting of the chamber held in Riverside Inn.

B. McCrirrick was elected vice-president with Mrs. A. Pauls secretary. Executive members appointed included D. Smith, K. Castely, W. F. Grosskleg, J. Anderson, J. Allen, H. Nash, W. Tleau and G. Ardley.

A discussion of shop hours, zoning, sidewalks and widening the highway through the village followed the election, and it was decided to interview the Minister of Public Works. Need for a suitable Provincial jail and police office was also discussed.

At present, it was pointed out, there was no provision for handling lawbreakers, and it was decided to write the Attorney-General about the matter.

Weather Forecasts

East Coast of Vancouver Island—Clear. Light winds with little change in temperature.

West Coast of Vancouver Island—Overcast with light winds. Little change in temperature.

Zoning By-Laws To Be Prepared

PORT ALBERNI, April 26.—City Solicitor Gordon Campbell is to prepare necessary by-laws for zoning of two areas in Port Alberni as commercial districts, indicating the opening of two new business areas in outlying territory.

The by-laws and procedure will be prepared by the solicitor for the zoning of 10th Avenue, both sides, from Maitland to Redford, and also China Creek Road, from 9th to Anderson, also both sides. This action has to be finalized by council in regular session.

Council will hear from its committee a recommendation that the B.C. Bridge & Dredge be authorized to lay high voltage electic cables in conduits under the highway at the substation site, north of Lupsey Kupsey site and opposite the new pulp mill.

Woman Escapes Serious Injury

CUMBERLAND, April 26.—Mrs. J. R. Small had an escape from serious injury and possible death when she fell 15 feet from the flat roof of her apartment while hanging her washing on a clothesline.

The clothesline broke as she was holding on to it, and she pitched forward and down, landing on a pile of firewood. As she struck, the wood pile began to roll and it is thought the fact she rolled with the pile saved her from serious injury.

Her husband, who operates a take shop immediately below the apartment, heard her screams and rushed out to pick her up. She was taken to Cumberland hospital, suffering from shock, bruises and cuts, and is reported to be resting easily.

To Recommend Bank's Tender

PORT ALBERNI, April 26.—Finance committee of Port Alberni City Council will recommend at Monday's regular meeting that the bid of the Royal Bank of Canada for $78,500 par value bonds of the Corporation of the City of Port Alberni be accepted. The bank's tender, was for $82,660 and accrued interest, being at the rate of 105.30 per 100.00 par value of the bonds.

Two other bids were received: Pemberton & Son, Ltd., Vancouver, on behalf of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, J. L. Graham & Co. and Pemberton & Son bid firm at the rate of 103.54 per 100.00 or $81,278.90.

McMahon & Burns Ltd. bid firm on behalf of the Bank of Montreal and themselves at 103.05 and accrued interest per 100.00 par value or $80,894.25 plus accrued interest.

Plan Inoculation In Comox District

COURTENAY, April 25.—Start on a program of immunizing Comox district children against diphtheria and whooping cough will be made this next week when district health nurses will give inoculations to youngsters brought into school centres by their parents.

Taxpayers to Vote On Incorporation

Property owners in the Campbell River area will vote Wednesday on the question of whether they wish to be incorporated as a village municipality.

Two other nearby communities are also moving toward incorporation. In Clinton, a public meeting will be held on Wednesday and Fort St. John will hold a meeting Monday, May 5.

Both meetings willl be addressed by D. R. Wheldon, of the Department of Municipal Affairs.

Courtenay Fund Now Totals $936

COURTENAY, April 26.—Courtenay Volunteer Fire Department's building fund spurted ahead this week with donations of $457 rolling in to swell the total to $936. Objective is $4,000.

The business area of the city is being canvassed, while citizens are being asked to send donations by mail.

Menace of Dust Will Be Tackled

PORT ALBERNI, April 26.—The council of Port Alberni intends to go after the dust menace in the Summer of 1947.

As a result of discussions in committee, the works committee, headed by Alderman John Woodford, will recommend to council in regular session the purchase of ten tons of salt for dust-laying purposes.

This salt was aboard a ship, it is learned, and about 4 per cent of oil got mixed with it. It is a coarse salt and, in consequence of the oil having got into it, sells cheaply at $9.25 per ton. It is expected to prove an effective dust layer.

COURTENAY, April 26.—"Cream receipts are on the increase and we hope to provide more butter for Comox district residents shortly," S. A. Cater, manager of the Comox Creamery, said Thursday. Mr. Cater added that the amount of cream brought in by farmers always increases at this time of year. In answer to a question about stocks of butter, Mr. Cater said that as of Monday morning the creamery had 32 pounds of butter in stock.

May Day Parade In Port Alberni

PORT ALBERNI, April 26.—The solidarity of labor again will be demonstrated in Port Alberni on May 1, when under the auspices of the Alberni District Joint Labor Council, a large parade and rally will be staged.

Outside speakers, as well as local orators, will take part in the rally following the parade in Recreation Park. Among the speakers who have been invited are Arthur Turner, M.P.P. (C.C.F.) and Nigel Morgan, L.L.D. Other speakers will be Rev. Glen Stevenson, Mayor W. C. Hamilton and Mayor C. C. Cocks who are on the invitation list.

A feature of the parade will be the massed marching of union men, and a float, entered by the Nurses' Association, to give prominence to the hospital fund drive. In last year's parade upwards of 1,000 persons, young and old, took part.

New Hotel Plans At Port Alberni Still Incomplete

PORT ALBERNI, April 26.—Victoria advices indicate that the interests, tentatively considering hotel construction plans on Third Avenue, North, include Omer Demers, formerly Liberal member, of Shellbrook, Sask., and associates. It is understood that Mr. Demers, now in Victoria, and his associates plan a hotel which will cost in the neighborhood of $200,000 and will be completely fireproof.

Negotiations were conducted in Port Alberni recently for the taking of an option on property at Third and Burde upon which it was indicated the principals were interested in establishing the hotel, of more than 50 rooms. A Victoria real estate firm opened the preliminary negotiations for securing the property.

Mr. Demers is believed to have had wide experience in hotel operation and has been associated with hotels on the Prairies and in Victoria. It has not been stated officially, however, that the deal is completed.
